City Buses Stop as Drivers Quit; Company Facing Franchise Loss

SNOWSTORM HITS WASHINGTON. Two Capitol Hill secretaries get out on the lawn with shovels as a gag to call attention to the snowstorm which disrupted transportation and closed schools in Washington, D. C., Friday. Upwards of six inches of snow fell. The girls are Lois Glines, Durham, N.H., and June Pitts, Clinton, S.C., right. (Story on Page 12)

Reds Won't Take Captives Nor Will U.N.

326 Pro-Communist Prisoners Sit in Camp With No Place To Go

PANMUNJOM (AP) — Twenty-one Americans and 326 other pro-Red prisoners in Korea's neutral zone were caught today between a new Communist refusal to accept them and a tougher Allied attitude.

Two Communist generals rejected for the second time an Indian proposal that the Reds accept "under protest" the 21 Americans, 1 Briton and 325 South Koreans who renounced their homelands for communism.

Guards Abandon Them

Indian guards abandoned the captives last midnight after the Reds wouldn't take them.

The U. N. Command virtually told the Communist Command to take them back.

"We welcome any statement that you will make as to your plans for removing them as rapidly as possible from their present camp to any area north of the present demilitarized zone," Maj. Gen. J.K. Lacey told the Reds at a session of the Military Armistice Commission.

Growing Allied impatience with the pro-Reds was reflected also in Washington, where U.S. Defense Secretary Wilson said the 21 Americans "must make up their minds quickly" if they want to come home. "Their pay is going to be cut off very shortly," he said.

Pentagon officials said that only the Reds' refusal to take back the 21 had given them a few hours or days of grace before "undesirable" discharges become effective.

Confer With Reds

Indian Lt. Gen. K. S. Thimayya conferred at Red headquarters Saturday with Communist Generals Lee Sang Cho and Ping Kuo Yu, on his suggestion that the Reds accept custody of the 347 POWs under protest.

"The situation remains the same," he reported. "Nothing short of continued custody by the Indian Command would satisfy them . . . They made it quite strong."

He said, however, the Red generals proposed sending Communist Red Cross personnel into the camp to care for the men, which he agreed to, provided it is in accord with the armistice. Thimayya said no further meetings were scheduled with the Reds.

Although Thimayya said he no longer has control over the 347 pro-Red soldiers, he disclosed that a token guard of 20 Indians was left behind to "ensure law and order."

Any movement of men or vehicles from the Allied side to the neutral zone would be stopped, Thimayya said, and movements

Transit Firm Should Give Up, Council Member Says

Bus service in Marion stopped shortly after 2:30 p.m. Friday and when it would resume appeared highly uncertain today.

The drivers were called out by John Tanner, president of the Local 222, Transit Workers Union, after a meeting in city hall yesterday which was highlighted by the demand of a city councilman that the bus company give up its franchise.

This demand was made by Robert G. Haldeman, chairman of council's utilities committee, who said the Marion Transit Co. should surrender its franchise voluntarily, "or the city will take it away."

The strike threat arose during the morning hours after the drivers were issued weekly pay checks and found they were unable to cash them at any of the banks in the city.

John Tanner, union president, said the men wanted to walk out at that time but agreed to keep the buses on the street pending outcome of the meeting called by the mayor.

During a meeting in which tempers reached the boiling point, it was decided there was no way the company could make the checks good or pay the drivers for this or last week's work.

This decision was followed in close order by Haldeman's demand and the announcement of Tanner and John Davis, union vice president, that the buses would be pulled off the street during a shift change at 2:30 p.m.

Strike or Not?

The uncertainty which cloaked the future of the bus company also clouded the nature of the walkout.

Some of the drivers denied it was a strike, saying that no vote had been taken and that it was a matter between the union officials and the company. One who refused to be quoted said he and some other drivers were going to see Floyd Kreisel, company president, about returning to work, possibly on Monday.

Even the union president conceded he didn't know whether or not it was an official strike. "We just walked out," he said.

Tanner said he ordered the drivers to take their buses off the streets after he had discussed the matter with several of them. He said he felt he was justified in giving the order.

"The checks were no good. We couldn't work for nothing," he said.

Meeting Called by Mayor

Yesterday's meeting in the city hall was called by Mayor Robinson in an effort to avert the strike.

Discussion centered on the company's financial condition.

Asked what would be required to keep the company operating, Kreisel said that "about $1,000" would be needed to cover the pay checks alone.

Had Hoped for Delay

He further explained that in issuing the checks yesterday morning he had hoped some of the men would not cash them until Monday and receipts for yesterday and today would provide enough money in the bank account to pay the checks.

With this, Tanner said it all looked "funny" to him and asked what had been done with "all the money" collected during the week.

Kreisel said it had all been deposited in the bank and none had been used to pay any bills with the exception of liability insurance "and that had to be paid so we could keep the buses on the streets."

He added that he hadn't cashed his pay check for the last three weeks attempting to keep the company's head above water. Wilbur Poorman, business manager, also said he had not cashed his pay checks for two weeks for the same reason.

John Davis, union vice president, said that he had to cash his checks each week because "I have a big family and it takes every cent I make to care for them."

Tanner said he had done everything possible to help the company stay in operation but he could not keep the men on the job if they weren't going to be paid.

No One Blamed

Tanner told city officials, "I hope you are not blaming us for this situation," and both Haldeman and Harold Smith, First Ward councilman, assured him they felt no one was to blame.

Richard E. Lister, councilman-at-large, said "worthless" checks should not have been issued to the drivers. He said he felt Kreisel should have called the men in, told them there was no money to pay them and asked them to work on until money could be raised for their pay.

Arrested in Hospital

GI Who Came Back Facing Army Trial

WASHINGTON (AP)—Cpl. Edward S. Dickenson, a Virginia farm boy who changed his mind about staying with the Communists in Korea, faces Army charges that he dealt illegally with his Red captors to get better treatment. If tried and convicted of one of the charges, he could be sentenced to death.

The Army notified Dickenson of the charges last night, then placed him under arrest at its Walter Reed Hospital here. He has been undergoing a physical examination.

Other Prisoners Hurt

The 23-year-old soldier stands accused of unlawfully holding "intercourse with the enemy" to get "favorable treatment." The formal charges say his activities hurt other prisoners of war held by the Reds.

Officials explained that the filing of these charges—based on accusations by former fellow prisoners—is only a preliminary action. It does not even necessarily mean he will be brought to trial.

An official announcement by the Military District of Washington said no decision will be made on whether to try Dickenson until after an investigation of the charges and evidence has been finished and its results "fully reviewed for legal sufficiency." The Army said this preliminary will be held "at the earliest date possible."

Dickenson, whose home is in the remote mountain town of Cracker's Neck in southwestern Virginia, was one of 23 American soldiers who refused to return to United Nations lines when the Korean truce was signed last summer. He later asked neutral Indian guards to take him back.

The young Virginian told reporters at the time that the Chinese Reds "kept me back" with threats.

Batchelor in Tokyo

A second American—Cpl. Claude J. Batchelor—renounced the Communists on New Year's Day. He is in the Tokyo General Hospital.

The Far East Command said last night that it has no knowledge of any similar action that may be taken against Batchelor. The soldier's mother—Mrs. O. L. Batch-

News of Army Arrest of Son Stuns Parents

CRACKER'S NECK, Va. (AP)—The Van Buren Dickensons, parents of Cpl. Ed Dickenson, were stunned, saddened and bitter about the news that their son faces possible court-martial.

The Dickensons were reached last night at their home, high on a hillside six miles from Big Stone Gap, by Bristol Herald-Courier reporter J. S. Riley.

Mrs. Dickenson, in her 40's, almost burst into tears.

She said she could not understand why such an effort was made to persuade Dickenson and other reluctant POWs in Korea to come

Molotov Arrives

Russian Delegate Seeks Admission of Red China

BERLIN (AP)—Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov arrived here today for a Big Four meeting and immediately prodded the Western powers to admit Red China to the conference table if they want to speed up the end of the cold war.

Under security protection of thousands of troops and secret police, the Kremlin's No. 1 diplomat came to East Berlin by plane from Moscow and declared:

"The sooner the Chinese People's Republic takes part in negotiations over current international questions of the great states, the better it will be—the better for the strengthening of peace between peoples."

Only a handful of Communist officials of East Germany and other Soviet bloc countries heard Molotov's statement, read at Schoenefeld Air Field but it was broadcast 2½ hours later. He arrived as his opposite numbers from the Western Big Three conferred on strategy for the four-power conference opening Monday. The West has been cold to the idea of having Red China sit in on the present meetings.

The Soviet sector put on the biggest display of security measures seen here since the visit of Andrei Vishinsky, then foreign minister, five years ago.

East German troops, in their olive drab Russian style uniforms, were deployed along the entire three-mile stretch from the Soviet Embassy to the giant Stalin Allee housing project. Unarmed sentries were posted every 500 feet on both sides of the avenue from which vehicles were barred.

The Russians have insisted that an all-German government must come before elections. Presumably the Soviets fear they would lose control in the East zone in such balloting.

The British feel that a breakdown in the Big Four talks would increase international tension. To that end they have come up with proposals aimed at winning a breathing space for East and West which could be used to improve day-to-day cooperation between divided Germany.

If Russia rejects the West's terms for unity, the British would like the ministers to open discussion on a series of non-aggression guarantees between Russia and the West; the possibility of more East-West trade, particularly in

Marion Man Hit by Auto on State St. Dies

William O. Nippert, Retired Shop Owner, Is City's First Fatality

William O. Nippert, 76, of 320 Lafayette St., died at 3:15 p.m. Friday in Marion City Hospital of injuries suffered when struck by a car on S. State St. Tuesday night.

The mishap occurred at the corner of S. State and E. Pleasant Sts. and marked the city's first fatal traffic accident of 1954.

Apparently he had walked into the path of the car, driven by Quintin Hefferman, 34, of 321 St. James St. Hefferman told police he applied his brakes and attempted to swerve to miss the pedestrian, but was unable to avoid the mishap. No charges were filed against the driver.

With the exception of a few years, Mr. Nippert has resided in Marion since 1909, and during that time was closely associated with the business life of the city.

Managed Plant Here

He came to Marion from Portsmouth to take over the management of the Starner-Copeland Shoe Co. located at the corner of Park Blvd. and Darius St.

Some six years later the family moved to Delaware where he was superintendent of the Selby Shoe Factory. He then went to Cincinnati where he was an efficiency man in a shoe manufacturing plant and later was associated with a Cleveland firm.

Returning to Marion, he was with the Marion Steam Shovel Co. for a short time before establishing his own shoe repair shop, a business he conducted for more than 30 years. He retired two years ago because of ill health

Wife, Daughter Survive

Mr. Nippert was born April 25, 1878, in Portsmouth. His marriage to Miss Grace Mereness of Marion took place Jan. 17, 1909 here. She survives with one daughter, Mrs. Robert A. Marion Man Hit by Train, Badly Injured

Grimes Parker, 49, of 822 Kenton Ave., is in "fair" condition in City Hospital today after being struck by an eastbound New York Central passenger train at the Erie crossing on Kenton Ave. at 9:56 p.m. yesterday.

He suffered a head injury, concussion, possible fracture, lacerations of the scalp, fractured ribs and multiple contusions.

Police said as near as could be determined Parker was crossing from the northeast side of the Erie tracks to the southwest, apparently attempting to beat the train across.

Parker was almost across, police reported, when he was struck by the right front corner of the train and knocked approximately 50 feet.

H. O. Carr of near Marion, watchman at the crossing, told police he saw Parker crossing the railroad tracks and said Parker was trying to beat the train. Parker was on the west side of the crossing and not on the pedestrian's crosswalk when hit, Carr said.

Parker was taken to City Hospital in an L. A. Axe and Son ambulance.

EFFECTS OF YESTERDAY'S WALKOUT by Marion Transit Co. bus drivers was visible within an hour after the buses were taken off city streets at 2:30 p.m. Word of the strike spread quickly. Would-be passengers waited at bus stops for only short periods before passers-by informed them of the walkout.

UPPER: The E. Center St. side of the courthouse, a scene usually full of buses and passengers, was almost empty late yesterday afternoon. The only people who gathered at the city's main bus stop left in private automobiles or taxi cabs.

Vote Machine Legal Question Will Be Cleared

Prosecutor To Present His Opinion Monday On Request of Board

An opinion on legal questions arising from Board of Elections action to acquire voting machines for Marion County is expected to be given commissioners Monday by Prosecutor Ralph Carhart.

County commissioners this week requested aid from Carhart on two questions facing them:

1) Can the question of voting machines be submitted to voters?

2) How can voting machines be financed?

77 Requested

In a resolution submitted Jan 15, the Board of Elections asked commissioners to purchase 77 machines. Supporting their resolution, election officials included a five-page detailed report. Information in this report was compiled from a year's study of the question of voting machines.

Two main factors emphasized by election officials in their recommendation are that machines would result in considerable saving to the county and would speed up the election count.

Commissioners Monday discussed the resolution and decided they would like to ask voters if they want voting machines for the county. If the vote is favorable, then they would seek a way to purchase machines, commissioners indicated.

The Board of Elections proposed that the county acquire the machines by issuing negotiable prom-

Million Dollar Fire Sweeps Oil Firm Docks

SEATTLE (AP) — Fire swept he length of Standard Oil Co.'s 1,000-foot dock at the Point Wells "tank farm," 13 miles north of here early today. Damage was estimated at more than a million dollars.

The blaze was brought under control at 3 a. m., PST, after threatening a huge area of gas, oil and fuel oil tanks, one of the largest tank farms on the pacific coast.

There were no injuries or deaths reported.

The fire started late last night after the oil-laden tanker, J. L. Hannah, smashed into the pier while attempting to dock.

Sparks ignited oil flowing from 10 ruptured fuel lines leading from storage tanks to the dock. The fire, in turn, set off a number of explosions from 50-gallon drums of fuel oil piled on the pier. Great columns of flame roared 600 to 700 feet in the sky.

Talk of Churchill's Retirement Grows

IMMINGHAM, England (AP)—A Conservative member of Parliament says the current talk in the House of Commons is that Prime Minister Churchill will retire next May after Queen Elizabeth II returns from her royal tour.

Cyril Osborne told a political meeting here last night that Churchill's retirement date "has been much discussed in Westminster (parliamentary circles) this week. Nobody knows, but many think it will be when the Queen comes home."

Patrol Cruiser Uses Radar, 21 Autos Stopped

Occasion Marks First Time for Device Here; 6 Other Arrests Made

Highway patrolmen in the Marion area placed in operation a radar device to check the speed of moving vehicles here yesterday.

It was the first time patrolmen had reverted to the radar speed clocker in the area and as a result 21 drivers were halted and charged with speeding.

Although it marked the first time the device has been used from the Marion sub-station, patrolmen here report similar drives have been conducted by posts throughout Ohio.

Placed in use yesterday on Route 30-N, near Bucyrus, the radar-equipped patrol car will be used throughout the remainder of this patrol district. The district includes posts here and at Bucyrus, Mansfield, Norwalk, Fremont and Bay Bridge. The one-day stand on Route 20-N ended last night.

Patrolmen explained the speed of the passing automobile was timed when a beam directed across the highway from a parked patrol car was broken. Signs were posted 750 to 1,500 feet from the radar-equipped car to warn motorists of the checking cruiser.

While the radar check produced 21 arrests on speeding violations, patrolmen in the Marion area reported this morning 27 motor-

News of the Churches

Special Union Services Will End Monday Night

Final services of the union Spiritual Victory Crusade in Marion will be held Sunday and Monday. The co-operating churches will hold their own services on Sunday morning, then join in the evening for the union crusade service at Epworth Methodist Church.

Rev. Charles F. Taylor, the preacher, and Rev. Laurie F. Taylor, the musician of the evangelistic team, will each be guest speaker at separate church worship services in the morning. They are appearing in Marion under auspices of the Marion County Ministerial Association. Several churches are canceling their own Sunday evening services to permit their congregations to attend the union service. There will be no crusade service tonight.

On Monday night, the evangelist will tell his life story illustrated with color moving pictures of England. He started traveling with his father in evangelistic work at the age of 5, as a child singer, preached his first sermon at 9, and came to this country from England at the age of 13, and has preached more than 300 times a year since. His travels have taken him to many parts of the world. With his brother he plans to go to Australia for evangelistic campaigns in the near future.

Arrangements have been made for the Wesleyan Service Guild members of the host church to attend the crusade service in a group Monday night, after which they will hold their business meeting instead of on Wednesday night as scheduled originally.

Rev. "Charlie" Taylor will be the preacher on Sunday morning at Oakland EUB Church, and Rev. Laurie Taylor will preach in the morning at Fite Memorial Baptist Church.

"Midnight Photography" will be the sermon theme for the service Sunday night, which will be the last preaching service. The Monday night service will be the "Life Story" by Rev. "Charlie" Taylor.

Sunday night special music by Rev. Laurie Taylor will be request hymns including repeat of "Master the Tempest Is Raging" which drew enthusiastic response from the audience at the Music Night service Friday night. The sermon that night was on "The Traveling Salesman," Rev. "Charlie" Taylor's interpretation of the story of the Good Samaritan.

On Tuesday, the evangelist will leave by air for San Francisco, Calif., where he will spend three days giving his annual lectures on evangelism at the Berkeley Baptist Divinity School.

At home at Pasadena, Calif., he and his brother will conduct two weeks of meetings, their first crusade there in five years. Following itinerary includes crusade campaigns at Lethbridge, Alberta, Canada, and Decatur, Ga., then on May 1 they will leave for Honolulu where they will conduct services in the islands for a week before leaving for Australia. They plan to spend five months "down under" and return to this county Oct. 1.

In a statement today, Dr. Taylor expressed his appreciation of the co-operation the evangelistic team has received in promoting the crusade in Marion, and said he and his brother have enjoyed their stay here even more than on their first visit in the community.

He Leadeth Me

A Governor's son discovers a hymn he wrote

In the spring of 1865 a young minister took his seat on the pulpit of the Second Baptist Church at Rochester, N. Y. About to preach his trial sermon before a new congregation, he thumbed through a hymnal to select an impressive song. Over in the book his hand stopped. His eyes widened. Then he smiled. His wife must have played a prank on him. His thoughts went back to a night three years earlier.

It was March 26, 1862. The nation was in turmoil. The War-Between-the-States had swung into its tragic stride. Abraham Lincoln had not yet issued his Emancipation Proclamation and nobody knew what the blood-shed was all about . . . nor where the struggle might lead. Everywhere people were praying for Divine guidance. In Philadelphia the son of the Governor of New Hampshire made a talk before a group that had gathered at the First Baptist Church for prayer.

He leadeth me! O blessed tho't!
O words with heavenly comfort fraught!
Whate'er I do, Where-e'er I be,
Still 'tis God's hand that leadeth me.

Sometimes 'mid scenes of deepest gloom,
Sometimes when Eden's bowers bloom,
By waters still, o'er troubled sea,
Still 'tis His hand that leadeth me.

The speaker and his wife went home with Deacon Thomas Wattson for the night. The deacon complimented the young speaker on his selection of a text. Retiring to his room Joseph Gilmore sat up into the wee hours writing some verse.

The next morning Mrs. Gilmore was up ahead of her husband. She took the paper with its verses but said nothing. Gilmore forgot it completely. Mrs. Gilmore sent the poem to a Baptist periodical. Composer William Bradbury read it, set it to music and published it in his hymnal, "The Golden Cencer."

At Rochester when Joseph Gilmore, D.D. stopped his hand on a page in the hymnal his thoughts went back to that night in Philadelphia when he talked from the text "He Leadeth me beside the still waters." At any rate, he wanted to hear how a hymn sounded that he had written, so he asked the congregation to sing . . .

Lord, I would clasp Thy hand in mine,
Nor ever murmur nor repine,
Content, what-ever lot I see,
Since 'tis my God that leadeth me.

And when my task on earth is done,
When, by Thy grace, the victory's won,
E'en death's cold wave I will not flee,
Since God thro' Jordan leadeth me.

On Giving an Account

A Sermonette

By REV. ASHLEY G. BOOTH
Pastor of Central Christian Church

"Always be prepared to make a defense to any one who calls you to account for the hope that is in you, yet do it with gentleness and reverence."—1 Peter 3:15.

Does the prisoner have anything to say before sentence is pronounced? The courtroom grows quiet, not merely from the rapping of the gavel; Shakespeare's descriptive phrase "the hush of death" hovered over the crowd because they knew that they were witnessing more than the sentencing of an unjust man. The audience was not in complete sympathy with the prisoner, for he was uncouth and often refused to speak either in self-defense or in accusation of others. The motley group which watched the proceedings could be, and often were, as bloodthirsty as the lower members of the animal kingdom. But not all sense of fair play had died within them, and they came to have an increasing sympathy for the lonely figure who stood before the judge.

With some changes this is an outline of what happened in the large-scale persecution of the early Christians. Of course, Christians were not given the opportunity for self-defense but only to reant. Nor was there any growing sentiment by the population. But the outline of the mock trial of the early Christians runs parallel to our attempt to deal justly and fairly. There is close similarity in the judge asking "Does the prisoner have anything to say before sentence is pronounced?" to the appeal of sympathetic by-standers. "Do you have a last word for us?" "Is there any last wish you would have us carry out?" "Can you give a reason for the hope that is in you?"

THE YEAR is 69 A.D. The Emperor Domitian had ordered the persecution of Christians because they defied his order of emperor worship. The heavy hand of the law reached into the household of the emperor was executed and his the emperor was execute and his wife banished. The oppression spilled over into Asia Minor, and Christians at Rome poured out their concern for their fellow Christians. A letter, bearing the authority of Peter, comes to give comfort to the struggling fellowship on the fringes of the empire .The Kingdom of God did not depend upon a mimeograph machine, but upon personal witnessing. Testimonials of men's faith permeated all levels of society, and their words were passed in the form of personal letters. In order to strengthen the Christians and to keep them from being haunted although they were hunted, the epistle admonished: "Always be prepared to make a defense to anyone who calls you to account for the hope that is in you."

The entire letter is base on the assumption that Christ is the "living hope," and that Christians are a hopeful lot. The writer appeals for them not to be boastful and arrogant but to be able to state clearly and decisively the heart of their faith. If you were to receive such an appeal, what account would you give of your faith?

CHRISTIAN FAITH involves two things. The first is faith in Jesus Christ, Son of the Living God — Lord — Master — Savior. "For no other foundation can anyone lay than that which is laid, which is Jesus Christ." It is false reasoning which speaks of "Christian faith" and has no room for the founder of the faith. The first is basic.

The second sometimes is glossed over or even denied in considering only the first. The second part of the Christian faith involves a way of living. If Christ is the Great Physician He has given us a prescription for a way of living.

Is there not the story of the little boy who sampled a new pudding and remarked "I know this must be bad for me because it tastes so good." Despite medical discoveries the idea is widespread that medicine must have an unpleasant taste. So with Christ's prescription, some shy away from the Christian life because they fear a possible sacrifice. Most people who are un-Christian are pagans, not because they cannot believe in Christ, but because they are afraid of His prescribed way of living. But the saints have never so pictured their relationship to the living God. And all of us know intensely Christian people who do not believe that the medicine is ill-tasting.

ONE CAUTION: that does not mean that it is always easy to take. Like our physician's prescription we find reasons for not taking the impalatable doses. But we know that health lies in keeping persistently at it. So why should a Christian balk at the prescription which will produce spiritual health?

Have you heard of these objections to Christ's prescriptions?

We assert that His teaching does not apply to our age. We claim that the Words of Christ were not intended to change this world. We give ourselves a moral out by claiming that the times we live in are different from His and that what He taught cannot apply today.

We are not only saying that Christ's medicine is not good, but we are also saying other things: the words of men have taken the place of the eternal truths of God.

Through Jesus Christ God has given mankind the eternal prescription for abundant living — for security — for personal and world peace. Contrary to the wisthe God of things as they are, but the God of things as they ought to become. Christ has pictured the Way as hard and narrow, and that it is difficult to find the entrance. But in discovering God's word through Christ and His way of living, you learn that His medicine is better than man's panaceas.

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

The Art of Self-Control

A famous physician, Dr. Loring Swain, professor at Harvard Medical School and head of the American Rheumatic Association, tells of making a speech about how the cure of various maladies has been helped by religious faith.

DR. PEALE

After his lecture a man came up from the audience and asked Dr. Swain to give him a few moments. He explained that, when he was 16 years old, he had fallen off a horse and injured his head. From that time on, he had a wild and ungovernable temper.

Now he was a contractor and whenever he negotiated a contract with someone, he always had to have an intermediary present because he could not have a discussion without getting terribly angry. If he played golf, he would smash his club against a tree when he missed a shot. In some games, he had broken half a dozen clubs. When once someone spoke to him while he was playing billiards, he brought the cue down on the edge of the table and broke it.

"HOW," HE ASKED, "can I control this violent temper of mine?"

Dr. Swain answered: "If you will put your faith in God and believe that He will give you self-control, you will be freed from the handicap of your bad temper. It is as simple as that."

So sincere was Dr. Swain's assurance that the contractor decided this was something he should try. He put himself and his temper in God's hands and asked for help.

"Something has happened to me," he reported a month later. "I can't get angry any more. And I have had the most intense provocation. Once I got a little irritable, that's all — but no temper."

DR. SWAIN reports that today, years later, this man has full emotional control

Anyone can learn to control temper in the same way. More people have destroyed themselves, their futures and their opportunities by ill-wind, resentment, irritation and annoyance—in a word by bad temper—than by almost any other reasons. This is true in any line of work. The man who cannot control himself is ultimately defeated by himself. I have had men tell me: "Anger rises up in me and before I know it, it shakes me like a storm. I fly to pieces and let them have it. But people understand me, and after a while they forgive me and everything is all right again."

But, of course, people don't understand, and sometimes they never forgive and everything is not all right again. People do not like a man who lacks self-control. He does not have their confidence or respect.

WELL, WHAT CAN you do about temper? The best way a person can overcome this liability and turn the emotional power so wasted into an asset is simply to ask God's help. For God can instill in you the art of self-control. The God-controlled person becomes the power filled person.

The secret of this, like many other secrets, is known to many. It is found in the words of the Bible, "As many as received Him, to them gave He power to become the sons of God." It is a tremendous thing to realize that you can become a son of God. As such, you can have power over yourself, power to control your temper and make yourself a better person.

"As many as received Him," the Scriptures say. That means to take Him into your heart, into your mind and into your soul. Give yourself to Him without holding back. If you do that, He will give you the power of self-control you need. You can master your temper before it masters you.

HERE ARE THREE rules that lead to the art of self control:

1. Spiritual power helps develop delayed action response, meaning the ability to delay voicing a sharp retort. The longer the delay, the cooler you become and the more wisely you act.

2. Spiritual power helps you become urbane, dispassionate, philosophical, even kindly, all of which takes the life out of anger.

3. Spiritual power creates in you the capacity to be understanding, to know why the other person acts as he does, and so you can discount it. In a word, you "skip" it.

Yes, that's true, auctions are dramatic. We know how to dramatize a sale. Previews of the Coming Attractions at the Local Theaters

FERNANDO LAMAS and Rhonda Fleming are the stars of the film, "Jivaro," which will be shown Sunday through Tuesday at the Palace Theater.

Lamas, Rhonda Fleming Starred in Palace Film

"Jivaro," which stars Fernando Lamas and Rhonda Fleming, will be the attraction Sunday through Tuesday at the Palace Theater.

Billed for Wednesday and Thursday are "Breaking the Sound Barrier" and "High Treason" in a double feature. The former stars Ralph Richardson, Ann Todd, Nigel Patrick and John Justin with Dinah Sheridan, and heading the cast in the latter are Liam Redmond, Mary Morris and Andre Morell.

The former is a dramatic story of supersonic flight, Ralph Richardson is cast as an aircraft manufacturer and Ann Todd plays the wife of a test pilot, Nigel Patrick. The latter is an action packed spy thriller concerning Scotland Yard.

Friday and Saturday the attractions will be "Forbidden" starring Tony Curtis and Joanne Dru with Lyle Bettger, and "Shark River" starring Steve Cochran, Carole Mathews and Warren Stevens.

"Forbidden" is the story of a gangster's hireling who tries to lure a racketeer's widow out of Macao but falls in love with her instead. There follows a battle between Curtis and Bettger for the affections of Joanne Dru.

In "Shark River," Warren Stevens as Clay Webley, a returning Civil War veteran, presuades his brother Dan, played by Steve Cochran, to escort him and a wounded friend through the Everglades to the Gulf of Mexico, where they will embark for Cuba. During the trip they encounter alligators, snakes, the swamps and hostile Seminoles.

Ohio Theater Featuring 'Miss Sadie Thompson'

"Miss Sadie Thompson," technicolor film starring Rita Hayworth and Jose Ferrer and featuring Aldo Ray, is the current attraction at the Ohio Theater. It will play through Thursday.

Rita Hayworth is seen in the title role, a night club entertainer with a cloudy reputation. She is stranded on a tiny tropical isle, a U. S. Marine outpost, when her ship is quarantined and takes up with a sergeant who falls in love with her. He urges her to go to Australia where he will join her later and be married.

It is then that Jose Ferrer, a fanatical reformer, discovers Sadie's past and, having great influence, brings pressure on the government to have her deported. But Ferrer succumbs to his desires for the girl, makes love to her and then is unable to face his own hypocrisy.

Starting Friday will be the technicolor drama, "His Majesty O'Keefe," which stars Burt Lancaster and features Joan Rice.

Filmed on location in the Fiji Islands, the story tells of David O'Keefe, a soldier-of-fortune, who finds himself in the South Seas on a mission of adventure. Included in his adventures are a search for sacred stones, marriage to a beautiful half-caste maiden, fights with looting mutineers off another ship, native uprisings and romantic ceremonies.

Martin and Lewis Billed In State Double Feature

"Scared Stiff" starring Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis, and "Man from the Black Hills" with Johnny Mack Brown, will be shown Sunday and Monday at the State Theater.

Billed for Tuesday and Wednesday are "Cleopatra" and "Son of God's Country." The former stars Claudette Colbert and W. Williams, and heading the cast in the latter are Monte Hale and Pamela Blake.

John Hodiak and Audrey Totter are stars of the film, "Mission Over Korea," which will be the main attraction of the double feature playing Thursday and Friday. Completing the billing will be "Red Planet Mars" with Andrea King and Peter Graves.

Saturday only, the attractions will be "Pony Express" starring Charlton Heston and Rhonda Fleming, and an all starr western "Roaring Westward."

Marion Slates Showing Of Two Gangster Films

"The Gangster" starring Barry Sullivan, Belita and Joan Lorring, and "Dillinger," will be shown Sunday and Monday at the Marion Theater.

The former is a story of the psychological background of a big-city racketeer, depicting those things in his life which turned him into an enemy of society, and finally brought about his violent death at the hands of rival gangsters.

Billed for Tuesday and Wednesday are "Remains To Be Seen" and "Song of the Sarong."

Starring June Allyson and Van Johnson, "Remains To Be Seen" is a comedy-mystery with song. The story revolves about the death of a wealthy man who, after having been pronounced to have died a natural death by his physician, is found with a carving knife embedded in his body. Among those questioned by the police are his niece and heir, a hep-cat drummer who manages the apartment house in which the murder took place, the alternate heir, an ex-convict elevator boy, and artist with a grievance against the dead man, and the cook whose knife was found in the body.

Thursday through Saturday, the attractions will be "Robot Monster" starring George Nader and Claudia Barrett, and "The Man Who Murdered Himself" with Paul Henreid and Joan Bennett.

"Robot Monster" is a tale of a fearsome invader cornered in a huge cave. In an open countryside in America, a group of last remaining Americans battle robot monsters for life, while the world is contaminated and destroyed by the mysterious robots. The story in the latter tells of a man who, in escaping from a gambling mob seeking to kill him, plans to assume the identity of another man. He meets the other man's secretary, causing her to fall in love with him and become another instrument in his plan for murder.

RITA HAYWORTH, above, co-stars with Jose Ferrer in the tropic island romantic drama, "Miss Sadie Thompson," the current attraction at the Ohio Theater. It will play through Thursday.

The Truckers' Turn

The odds are against Gov. Lausche in his attempt to defend Ohio's axle-distance tax against the opposition of the trucking industry and its legislative allies.

His trip to Atlanta to talk with 10 southern governors is probably a waste of his time.

The odds are against Ohio in its attempts to raise enough money to rehabilitate its over-age highway system. The trucking industry is the only big potential producer of highway revenue, since it is the largest commercial interest involved. Its opposition to the axle-distance tax can be fatal.

It has left no doubt that it can muster support among its legislative allies in other states for a frontal attack on reciprocity agreements. While it stands to reason that truckers sometime will have to pay as they go in all states or lack suitable roads to go on it's a safe bet they aren't ready yet to give up the highway subsidies which put them in business and has kept them in busines profitably.

But if the trucking industry is successful in knocking out this new kind of taxation, it will have solved none of its own problems or the problems of the states.

It will have scored a negative triumph. Moreover, it will have scored it in a way which will complicate its public-relations problems.

The public highways do not belong to the trucking industry. They belong to the public as a whole, and the public as a whole is not feeling sweet and tolerant about an industry which demands so much more than it is willing to pay for.

It should be the truckers' turn before long to sit down and start worrying about what they're going to use for roads if they wear out their welcome along with road beds never intended to bear the weight of the colossal rigs which now pass freely from state to state, leaving nothing behind but a plume of fumes.

Are You in Politics?

Ernest T. Weir, chairman of National Steel Corp., made such a good speech about politics Wednesday night to an audience of bankers in Pittsburgh that it should be read by everybody interested in government.

Since that is out of the question, here's the gist of his message: That people who stay out of politics because they regard it as dirty business leave the field wide open to those who have no compunction about making both politics and government dirty business.

Everybody should get into the act, advises Mr. Weir. Businessmen, particularly, should get into politics at the working level because they have been too busy to realize there can't be good business without good politics.

He wants unionists, teachers, housewives, white - collar workers — everybody — to get into politics because that's the way the United States is governed—by political parties. Therefore the parties should be broadly representative.

In this connection, we'd like to point out that only one tiny group has anything to gain by whoopig up fear of ecoomic collapse because the war boom has quit booming and the gravy train has been put on a siding.

They are the malcontents who have been hoping for the last 20 years to accomplish a political overthrow by shouting that America is at the end of its rope.

If the ranks of both major parties were filled with typical Americans, this kind of talk would be confined to the Communist conspiracy.

It would be barred by the responsible political parties as vicious propaganda unworthy of Americans and America. We commend this to Mr. Weir as another reason why all kinds of Americans should get into practical politics—to keep politicans from misrepresenting what the American people believe.

A Tendency in Farmers

There is an undertone of uncertainty in the statements of so-called farm leaders about the new farm program. Its source is obvious.

The leaders aren't sure of their followers.

There is a tendency in farmers to think independently. Propositions either make sense or they don't. A man has time to look at things from all angles while touching up the paint on a tractor, shaking down fresh bedding in a cowbarn and buzzing cordwood in a wood lot.

There's one angle in the new farm program that everybody must notice sooner or later. It proposes a way to start getting rid of the surpluses which have been piled up by unrealistic pricing arrangements and to start tapering off the unsalable production which created the surpluses.

Farmers like to make money. They like to ride on the gravy train. They like to sell high and buy low. They're no different from everybody else. But they rely on their own judgment for all kinds of decisions which other people never are called on to make, and their judgment in this instance tells them a farm program which starts to get rid of surpluses and to taper off on unsalable production makes more sense than one which doesn't.

When farm leaders protest that the new program is unacceptable to farmers they are in real danger of protesting too much.

Eisenhower Budget

By David Lawrence

Inherited Debts Keep Federal Outlay Over Income

President Eisenhower has balanced the cash budget. The government will take in more cash than it will spend for the year beginning July 1 next.

This is an achievement of major importance, not merely to the taxpayers of America but to the world in which the integrity of the dollar plays a principal role today.

The details of a budget are complex and the methods by which the federal government keeps its books are wholly unlike those of private business. Capital outlays and loans are regarded as expenses, along with current operating expenditures.

The important thing to look at is whether the government is collecting more money than it is spending and whether it is being forced to keep on borrowing to get funds to pay deficits.

The Eisenhower administration came into power just a year ago and was confronted wih the operation of only the second half of the 1953 budget. This terminated on June 30, 1953.

THE BUDGET for the fiscal year July 1, 1953 to June 30, 1954 was already so far grooved into the operating system of the government — with contracts let far in advance and obligations already incurred — that there was no chance to do any major cutting. Where there was still discretion left and cuts could be made, the new administration was able to economize substantially.

Everyone who has followed budget matters knew that the real test would come in the so-called 1955 budget. This is the one on which work started in the summer of 1953 and has continued until this week, when the document was issued showing what estimated receipts and expenditures would be for the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1954 and continuing until June 30, 1955. This is what's called the "1955 budget."

Examining this — the first Eisenhower budget — it will be discovered that there will be a 100 million dollar surplus on a cash basis. This isn't large, but at least the cash deficits have been ended.

From a bookkeeping standpoint, too, using the same calssifications that have been employed in previous presidential budgets, the Eisenhower message reveals that, although the Truman administration's fiscal experts predicted a deficit of approximately 15 billion dollars, the Eisenhower prediction is for a deficit of only 2.9 billion.

ALL THIS has been accomplished despite a tax cut that means about 6 billion dollars less in revenue previously received from certain sources.

So what has happened is that the Eisenhower administration has borne the brunt of a tax cut, which reduced receipts from corporation and individual income taxes, and yet has come up with an actual cash surplus and a bookkeeping deficit of only one-fifth of what had been estimated for fiscal year 1955 by the preceding administration.

"These reductions (in expenses)," says the President, "justified lower taxes. Without tax reductions a budget surplus was in sight for the fiscal year 1953."

This is big news for the American people. A budget message is only what the president recommends. It is not law until Congress acts. The House and Senate can upset the applecart by increasing the expenditures or they can cut still further and bring the bookkeeping budget down closer to a balance.

Certainly as the Republicans go into the 1954 congressional campaign, their record on appropriations will be scrutinized. Will the majority have aided in bringing the budget closer to a balance, or will they have widned the gap?

THE PRESSURE on Congress to spend money for local projects or to benefit special interests is always strong. Hence, the drive to keep the debt limit from rising is one that may have a psychological effect in forcing a balance on the bookkeeping side. Senator Byrd says he is convinced that the facts disclosed by the budget message confirm his attitude in refusing to see the debt limit increased.

There are occasions when a higher debt limit is necessary for brief intervals. If the law could be amended so that the debt limit could be increased temporarily during a fiscal year, provided a certain limit was achieved at the end of the fiscal year, it might give the Treasury the flexibility it needs in refunding or refinancing its debt.

The facts of the budget, as revealed, are on the whole encouraging and it may be said that in a practical sense President Eisenhower has fulfilled his campaign pledge when he presents a budget in which the money to be spent is less by 100 million than the money that is to be collected from the taxpayers. Receipts may grow larger than have been anticipated, because the incentives to business expansion through revision of the tax laws may give America the same kind of lift that Britain got when the same principle — incentive taxation — was adopted last year at the suggestion of Chancellor of the Exchequer R. A. Butler.

Cotton Corners

By TRUMAN TWILL

Dear Nephew: I spent the better part of an hour this afternoon comforting a fellow named Harlan McLean who wanted to tell me his troubles. Don't try to remember who he is because you never knew him. He came here during the war to work in the furnace plant and stayed on. The McLeans live on the old Pettibone farm and lease out the farming to one of the Betzer twins.

McLean says work in the plant is slow right now, but that isn't what he wanted to talk about. He was trying to figure out what is properly in store for a man who doesn't want to boss anyone, hurt anyone, give anyone the elbow but just do the best job he knows how to do and keep his nose clean.

He said he had tried to do that throughout his life. He now is in his early sixties. He never bucked for boss. He never polished an apple or worked a dodge. He played his cards on the table and kept his hands above the edge of he table at all times. He says he is as good a tinsmith as you'll be able to find anywhere.

But all of a sudden, according to his account, the word is going around that he is not what he thinks he is. He does not know what the word actually is because no one will tell him, but he knows something is wrong because he keeps hearing he did thus and so—which he didn't do—for motives which he wouldn't have had.

Or things he did with good intentions are criticized because someone misunderstood or misrepresented what he was trying to do. Our friend Mr. McLean is an unhappy soul. He has learned that to know him is not to love him. I know exactly how he feels.

I never forget how I felt when I learned the same thing. Being a man without malice in my heart I actually believed at one time that others were going to do unto me as I was trying to do unto them. Somehow all the lessons of history had passed me by. I didn't even tumble to the significance of the crucifixion of Christ.

Without bringing myself into the thing directly, I pointed out to Harlan McLean that the reward for being inwardly good is all inward, never outward. A man finds peace in his ownheart, not in the United Nations.

I ticked off the names of a few martyrs, from Galilleo to Lindbergh. I also ticked off the names of a few persecutors, to keep the proposition in historic balance. You have to be careful of persecutors, though, lest they turn out to be some other fellow's knight errants.

I recommended to Mr. McLean that he drop in at the library some evening and borrow a copy of Don Quixote, to find out how a good man's good intentions can go astray when he doesn't understand the kind of a world he lives in. It was a good experience for me to prescribe for this patient. If I thought I could count on getting enough like him, I'd buy a couch and a crystal ball and play both ends against the middle, without having a license to be either a soothsayer or a psychiatrist.

Your aunt sends word not to pay any attention to me. She says these are my bad weeks and I will be irrational and hard to live with until I see my first bluebird in March.

Sometimes I think your Aunt doesn't understand me. Sometimes I think she would rather be married to Arhur Godfrey, who plays a ook and is surrounded entirely by music, hearty laughter and misunderstandings.

French Got Lion's Share of U.S. Aid

By Gault MacGowan

With the goals of European Defense "unachieved, and the future of NATO and peace in jeopardy," according to Secretary Dulles, the French government, which is holding up the contract, has received the major proportion of the U.S. 1953 aid program of 4 billion dollars.

More than 500 million dollars in procurement contracts were placed with the French government by the U.S. Army in Europe during the financial year of 1953. This was about double the placement made in 1952 on the assumption that the EDC treaty, proposed in the first place by France, would be ratified during the year.

Over the two - year period, French arsenals and military contractors have benefited by Army orders worth 725 million dollars, nearly all of which has gone for providing munitions.

MILLIONS of rounds of this ammunition have helped the French to fight their war in Indo-China.

In addition to these figures, an undisclosed number of contracs have been placed by U.S. Air Force and Navy procurement officers.

Work on airfields in France, pipeline construction across the country, and the provision of housing for U.S. Air Force personnel is being paid for from other contracts under the four billion-dollar program of 1953.

The 1954 aid program invisions about 3 billion dollars worth of off-shore material procurement, it was revealed in testimony before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, but orders under this project are only now in process of placement.

Meanwhile, Western Germany—assistance from which is regarded by the Pentagon as essential to the defense of Europe — has received orders only for radio equipment and bulldozer blades.

THE TOTAL procurement aid from Western Germany in offshore contracts from the Army was 4 million dollars in 1953 compared with the 500 million of France.

Next biggest benefitter under offshore procurement by the Army has been Great Britain. But Britain which is making munitions and equipment for other NATO nations, as well as for itself, received only 200 million dollars worth of orders.

Italy, another key defense nation in Europe, has received orders worth 140 million dollars.

Meanwhile, a popular front is shaping up in France to wreck any hope of a Franco-German partnership and to stop progress toward a United States of Europe.

This is the behind-the-scenes information on which Rep. Mack based his decision this month to introduce a bill authorizing a 575 million dollar increase in highway construction in the U.S. to be financed by cuts in foreign - aid spending. This amount is approximately the same as that spent in offshore buying in France in 1953 which, had the EDC treaty been ratified, would have been repeated in 1954.

SHOULD THE FRENCH Socialists and Communists force a German solution in 1954, the country will not immediately feel the shock of stoppage of offshore purchases. French munition factories are at present working full time on contracts placed in 1952 and 1953.

Deliveries are not scheduled to be completed for two years from the date of placement of the orders. The 1952 orders are scheduled for completion before July 1955. Orders that are now being placed — though they have been held up for six months to see which way the wind would blow—will not be due for delivery before July, 1956.

Therefore it seems that whatever policy on cessation of aid is decided by Congress, in 1954, the impact on France will be in slow motion.

The Kremlin policy in dithering over the Potsdam conference is aimed to allow plenty of time for the defection of France from EDC to shift the balance of power in Russia's favor.

Findings About Eskimo

By THOMAS R. HENRY

The Eskimo also had their "Pilgrim Fathers."

On desolate Cornwallis Island in the Canadian Arctic, buried under stone and bone artifacts or a relatively recent Eskimo people, is a layer of more delicately fashioned primitive tools belonging to an earlier people, it is reported by Dr. Henry B. Collins of the Smithsonian Institution.

This earlier race apparently composed the pioneers of the Eskimo migration moving eastward from the Bering Sea to the islands of the Canadian Arctic and eventually to Greenland, Dr. Collins excavations show. Nobody knows what happened to them.

After them, perhaps after a lapse of several centuries, came a new group of migrants, cruder in their craftsmanship, but possibly better fitted to survive.

Under an accumulated layer of rock and gravel, Dr. Collins uncovered a layer which once was covered with vegetation, perhaps during a mild interlude in the climate of the Southern Arctic.

Immediately beneath this were the so-called Dorset artifacts — primarily stone tools used for scraping skins or grooving bones. There also were harpoon heads and smaller barbed points. Similar tools are characteristic of the Dorset culture in Alaska.

Above the sod layer was found an accumulation of the later Thule artifacts. The site appears to have been that of a small village.

The indications are that the Dorset people did not stay at this place very long. A long interval, however, must have separated their occupancy from that of the next migrants. This, according to Dr. Collins, is shown by the condition of the animal bones of the bottom layer.

Unquestionably, Dr. Collins points out, the original homeland of the Eskimo was Asia. Within the last few years an Eskimo site has been excavated at Cape Denbeigh, Alaska, containing material very similar to the Dorset artifacts. The Alaskan site also contains stone projectile points quite suggestive in design to the so-called Folsom points, found in association with long extinct animals in the western United States. These points are supposed to have been the handicraft of the first humans on this continent at least 15,000 years ago.

Jewelry Center Rebuilds

PFORZHEIM, Germany (AP)—Pforzheim, after nearly nine years, is again the jewelry manufacturing center of this country. Yet much of the ruins still remain from the devastating raid of Feb. 23, 1945 by British bombers. Of Pforzheim's 79,000 citizens, 17,600 were killed in 20 minutes. One large cross near the center of the city stands as a memorial to all. Despite whole blocks still leveled, new factories, homes and stores are being erected everywhere.

The Once Over

More Pay for Congressmen

In that matter of higher pay for congressmen we are for ETPS (Elmer Twitchell Point System). Under it they would be rated, their batting averages recorded and their pay figured as in baseball. Give high-score legislators $25,000 a year, meium performers $12,500 and notify the bush-leaguers that they have nothing coming and owe the country money.

Why not annual salary hassles with the able performers holding out for more money and the poor ones made to take a big cut or be farmed out to Walla Walla?

Congressmen of real capacity are worth more than they are paid. There are bricklayers who make more. (But the bricklayers don't get so many free dinners, so much personal publicity or so much money from appearances on TV programs.)

In addition it must be remembered that if a bricklayer talked as foolishly as some legislators he would lose his union card. It is our hunch that the stage is all set for raises of about $5,000 instead of $12,500. Long speeches in Congress emphasiing self-denial and a reluctance to take more money will break down public opposition to such an extent that voters may burst into tears under the impression the solons have taken a cut instead of a raise.

Congressmen have been sounding out supporters. So have we. With the following comments:

"They want more pay! You mean they have been taking money for it all these years! !"

"So Congressmen wish raises of 100 per cent! Well, it just shows how chesty those TV appearances make them."

"What do they mean by needing more take-home pay? I didn't think they had the nerve to go home."

"I certainly favor keeping the wolf from every senator and representative's door, but I still think few wolves are that hungry."

"It is a good idea to help a legislator make both ends meet. However, there are many who have sufficient ability as contortionists to do it without money."

"I knew a Congressman who was offered three times his salary by a big private corporation. But it seems the corporation finally decided on another comedian for less."

Getting back to our original idea, we urge the Twitchell system with the season's averages given at the end of each year, and the services of every congressman tabulated.

This would take care of those who never got off the bench, stole second with the bases full, never played the outfield properly, faced the batter with one foot in the bucket or purposely misinterpreted signals in a tight place.

They say that on that $4,500 chartered plane flight to Florida, Babs said, "I smell something burning," and Rubirosa replied, "Don't worry. It's only money."

Joe DiMaggio's marriage to Marilyn Monroe shows that, as the baseball experts always said, he never feared curves. It also disposes of Joe's claim he would never take a management job, however good.

Moscow is reported trying to get Sonja Heinie to put on her ice show there. Probably it's tired of the one it's been putting on at the United Nations.

We are all for New York's action toward restoring some of Broadway's glamor through blocking its extension as a pitchmen's paradise, but it comes pretty late, and the Spirit of Broadway seems to us like the heroine bound to the tracks in the path of the onrushing locomotive crying, "Why are you so good to me?" as the hero throws her an aspirin tablet.

Congress Highlights

Opinions Differ on Lower Voting Age

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower's proposal to drop the minimum voting age to 18 faces a possible test vote in a Senate Judiciary subcommittee.

Backers of the proposed constitutional amendment argue that youths old enough to fight are old enough to vote. Some opponents claim 18-year-olds are too immature to vote. The legal voting age in 47 states is 21. Only Georgia permits voting at 18.

Taxes — Key Democratic representatives plan to carry to the House a fight for upper individual income tax exemptions from $600 to $700. The proposal was beaten yesterday by the House Ways and Means Committee: 15 Republicans against, 10 Democrats for. The committee continues its general overhaul of the nation's tax structure, termed "haphazard" by Eisenhower.

Budget — Republicans in Congress give their enthusiastic backing to Eisenhower's "new concept" for defense, stressing air power and new weapons instead of massive land armies. Many Democrats hold their fire, pending study of the President's 65½-billion-dollar budget for the next fiscal year. The budget calls for spending 37½ billions on defense—four billions less than estimated for this year.

Labor — Albert C. Beeson, a California industrialist, returns for more questioning by Senate Labor Committee members on his nomination to the National Labor Relations Board. Democratic senators indicated at hearing Wednesday they fear he might reflect management point of view on NLRB. Beeson said he would be impartial.

Investigations — The Senate Rules Committee considers requests totaling a million dollars to finance Senate investigations—including $200,000 each for the McCarthy and Jenner subcommittees.

Ambulance Picks Up Same Man 3 Times in One Night

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — A Memorial Hospital ambulance made three runs to the same corner last night and picked up the same man three times and took him to the hospital. The third time he stayed.

The man was Eldon H. Hartman, 43, South Bend.

At 5 p.m., he fainted at the corner of Kendall and Prairie avenues. He was taken to the hospital, treated for scalp lacerations and released.

At 6 p.m., the same thing happened. After being treated for reopened lacerations, Hartman was again released.

At 8 p.m., Hartman again fainted at the same corner, but this time he suffered a new cut on his head and this time the hospital kept him for observation.

Doctors attempted today to find the source of his trouble.

They said he was not drunk and Hartman said he had not been ill recently.

He lives near the corner where he fainted.

Bodies of Two Toledo Boys Found in Creek

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Led by a bloodhound, police chopped through the ice in Swan Creek yesterday and found first a red corduroy hat and then the bodies of two first-grade children.

More than 1,000 persons—police, sheriff's deputies, highway patrolmen and volunteers — hunted through the city for 24 hours before the bodies of Douglas Chaney, 7, and Eddie West, 6, were found huddled together in five feet of water.

Three times a bloodhound ended its trailing a the same spot on the creek's bank. Then police started chopping the ice.

Just before the youngsters left her home, Douglas' mother, Mrs. George Chaney, warned them away from the creek, about 500 feet from the house.

Eddie was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick West.

Morral Defeats Caledonia To Remain Atop County League

Harding's Rally Falls Short, Tiffin Columbian Wins

Prexies' Substitutes Shine Despite 76-70 Upset Loss

By JOHN SHORT

A scrappy Tiffin Columbian cage squad which refused to quit eked out a hard-earned 76-70 win over Harding's Presidents last night at Tiffin. It was the third win of the season for the Tiffin outfit and marked the seventh loss against five wins for the Prexies. Five of the losses have been in Buckeye League play.

Despite the loss Harding fans left the Tiffin gymnasium cheered. Coach Jim Lawler had used junior substitutes throughout most of the game and members of his second five proved themselves capable of varsity action. Two substitutes in particular earned their spurs. Max Kaelber pumped in 22 points to lead the Harding attack and take individual scoring laurels for the game. Phil Carroll came through with his best performance since the opener against Bexley. Phil added nine points to the total and played a top-flight defensive game. Another late addition to the Harding squad, Joe Snouffer, scored eight markers but also kept the Prexies within striking distance with his defensive action.

Grab Early Lead

Tiffin jumped into an early lead and was never headed although Harding threatened several times. Mainly on the strength of the marksmanship of Bill Groman and Don Weisenburger, the Columbians raced into a 1-6 lead before Harding showed signs of coming to life. A brief spurt by the Prexies cut the margin to 14-12 but the Tiffin pair broke loose again to build up a 25-13 lead at the end of the opening period.

Lawler inserted his second line strength in the second period, and it matched the Tiffin attack when Carroll and Kaelber began hitting regularly. The half ended with the local squad trailing 42-32.

A fired-up Harding crew came back in the second half to pour in 22 points while holding Tiffin to 14. Kaelber and Ron Conroy shouldered most of the scoring load while Dave Schnelker handled the job of rebounding. Weisenburger and Groman were slowed but Gene Smith took up the slack and popped in enough points to keep his mates ahead through most of the period. Harding overtook the Tiffin team with about two minutes to go when Conroy scored on a drive-in to knot the count at 50-all. Groman put his team ahead 56-54 with the clock running out but Kaelber tied it up with a fielder just as the whistle sounded.

Prexies Fall Short

A new Tiffin spurt early in the final period put the Presidents on the short end of a 65-60 count but Kaelber, Conroy and Carroll scored to narrow the gap to 67-66 before the winners pulled away for keeps.

George Cook fouled out with two minutes to play in the final period but his absence failed to affect the Tiffin team. It was able to stave off the determined Prexies and clinch the verdict when Weisenburger dropped through a pair of foul shots to boost the count to 74-70.

In addition to Kaelber's 22 points, Conroy scored 17 for Harding. Groman and Weisenburger each notched 20 for the winners while Smith had 15.

In the preliminary game, the Vice Presidents led most of the way and beat off a late Tiffin surge to notch a 54-49 win. Harding held quarter leads of 17-13, 27-25 and 43-39.

Paul Bender was the big show. He scored 23 points for Al Beach's charges with nine field goals and five points from the foul line. Chet King collected 16. Bill Fry was high for Tiffin with 11.

Zaharias Bolts Women's Golf Association, Return Welcomed

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Babe Zaharias is back in the Ladies Professional Golf Association after a 36-hour walkout, and everybody seems to be happy.

"The whole thing is made up," she said last night. "I think all the girls are happy."

Thursday morning Mrs. Zaharias, the great drawing card for the women pros, said she was quitting the association because Fred Corcoran had been dropped as tournament director. She refused reelection as president and threatened to start her own rival group.

She felt Corcoran was responsible for much of the financial success of the association and that he wasn't being treated fairly.

Other members of the LPGA said there was no dissatisfaction with Corcoran; they simply did not have the money to pay him.

In all the general rejoicing over welcoming the Babe back to the fold, no one was very clear what could be worked out about Corcoran.

Mrs. Zaharias said he would be in Tampa Monday and she though something could be arranged.

"He's the kind of fellow who would help without pay if necessary. If Fred doesn't desire to go along, we'll have to do it ourselves."

MSC Quintet Entertains Ohio State's Hoop Squad

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—The Michigan State and Ohio State basketball teams, both with unimpressive Big Ten records, meet here tonight with Michigan State slightly favored.

Michigan State has defeated only Illinois 60-59 in four conference games. Illinois beat Ohio State twice, and the Buckeyes are in the Big Ten cellar with a 1-4 record.

Defense is Michigan State's strong point while Ohio State is better on offense.

Barons Tangle With Louisville In Sunday Tilt

Marion's Barons will resume their drive for the top spot in the International Hockey League tomorrow at the Coliseum when they entertain the Louisville Shooting Stars.

The visitors, only this week were shifted to a traveling club after lack of attendance forced it to turn over its franchise to the league. The Barons played the final game at Louisville Thursday night and walked off with a 7-2 verdict.

The Barons currently are resting in third place in the IHL just three points behind second-place Toledo.

Former Lima, OSU Track Star Nips Fred Wilt

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fred Wilt, beaten by a mere inch last night in Philadelphia, set himself today for revenge against dark horse Len Truex in the Evening Star track meet.

Wilt was rated the man to beat in pre-meet estimates here. Truex was listed as an also-ran.

But at the Philadelphia Inquirer track and field meet last night, Truex, former Ohio State star, came out of the pack, pulled abreast of the fleet ex-G Man and fought him right down to the tape. In a last burst, Truex broke through just ahead of Wilt. Truex's time was 4:11.06.

Horace Ashenfelter, an FBI man who runs under the New York A. C. colors, set a new meet record last night in the two-mile event. He lapped almost the entire field and finished in 8:59.2. He had shared the previous meet record of 9:07.2 with Curtis Stone, who came in second last night.

Another pre-star meet favorite who fell below expected performance last night was Marine Carl Joyce, who came in second in the 1,000-yard run to Henry Bright of the New York Pioneer Club.

Bright's 2:11.2 set a new meet mark. The former record, 2:13.1, was set by Joyce only last year when he represented Georgetown.

Bright, Joyce and several of the other runners who competed in he event last night are entered in the Touchdown Club's Invitation 1,000 tonight. In Philadelphia, Bright took the lead at the start and never gave it up.

Joe Gaffney of Villanova might do much better in the 600-yard run tonight than he did at Philadelphia. Gaffney came in third to Reggie Pearman of the New York Pioneer Club, who pulled an upset—the first big one of the indoor track season—when he defeated Mal Whitfield by four yards. Pearman's time was 1:12.8.

Neither Pearman nor Whitfield, who holds the world record for the distance, are entered in the Evening Star Invitation 600 here.

Don Laz and the Rev. Bob Richards fight it out again in the pole vault here. At Philadelphia last night, Laz won with a fair 14 feet 8 inches. Richards, who has been favoring a sore ankle, could make only 14 feet, good for third place. Jerry Welbourn placed second with 14 feet, 4 inches. This was the second straight triumph for Laz over "Doc" Richards.

Favored in the high jump tonight is Ken Wiesner, who finished second in the Olympic high jump, but he faces tough competition from Arnold Betton, Vic Frittis and Arnold Wyatt. All have cleared 6 feet, 8 inches.

In other events at Philadelphia last night, Harrison Dillard of Cleveland won his 34th hurdle race in a row, but barely beat Charlie Pratt of Manhattan in the 50-yard hurdles. His time was 6:1—a tenth of a second off his own world record.

Andy Stanfield won the 50-yard sprint in 5.4 seconds, beating Ken Kave of Morgan State.

Bluffton Awarded 2-0 Forfeit Victory Over Wilberforce

BLUFFTON, Ohio (AP) — Bluffton College will probably never win a basketball game more easily than one it didn't even play last night.

Without a single ball being tossed, Bluffton was credited with a 2-0 victory over Wilberforce U. when the visiting team failed to put in an appearance. The game was scheduled to start at 8:15 p. m., but when Wilberforce had not arrived more than an hour later the referee signed the book, giving Bluffton a forfeit victory.

Bluffton will probably have to work a little harder tonight when it meets Findlay for the leadership of the Mid-Ohio league.

Chances Slim

Pair of Tennessee Teams Seeking Upsets of Leaders

By BEN PHLEGAR

NEW YORK (AP)—A pair of Tennessee basketball teams get a chance tonight to become the sensations of the nation but the chances are strong that neither one will make the grade.

At Knoxville the University of Tennessee takes on the University of Kentucky, unbeaten leader of the Associated Press weekly poll. And at Bowling Green, Ky., Memphis State visits Western Kentucky whose 17-game winning streak is the longest in the country.

Both Kentucky teams should win without working up a good sweat. However, it's been more than a decade since any team went through a major schedule undefeated. Some nights the ball just doesn't go through the hoop often enough.

Three other clubs from among the top 10 also see action tonight. Oklahoma A&M, a notch behind Western Kentucky in the No. 5 spot, is at North Texas State. Oklahoma City University, No. 7, opens a western swing against Wyoming and Minnesota, No. 9, visits Northwestern in one of the night's three Big Ten games. Iowa is at Purdue and Ohio State at Michigan State.

The Kentucky-Tennessee meeting is one of three Southeastern Conference engagements. Auburn visits Georgia and winless Georgia Tech tries its luck against a powerful Vanderbilt club.

Missouri at Kansas State marks the only Big Seven action while Wichita risks its Missouri Valley lead against St. Louis. Baylor meets Rice in the Southwest Conference. Dartmouth invades Penn in the only Ivy league game.

Out West Utah surprised Utah State 74-62 in a Skyline Conference game last night and plays host to Montana tonight. Brigham Young, 62-54 conqueror of Montana, swaps to Utah State.

Utah State scored the first field goal but never led again. Bill Maxwell topped Utah scorers with 18 points.

Dean Larsen, the Skyline Conference leading scorer, paced BYU with 19 as Montana suffered its fourth conference loss against a single victory.

Idaho's hustling Vandals took the measure of 7 feet 3 Swede Halbrook and company from Oregon State 70-55 despite a 35 point performance by Halbrook.

Seattle, ranked 16th in the nation, won its 16th straight, 72-57 over Colorado A&M. Seattle lost its opening game to Wichita.

Oregon edged Washington 77-76 in a Pacific Coast Conference game. Idaho State whipped Western State of Colorado 68-47 in a battle for the lead in the Rocky Mountain Conference. Arizona beat Arizona State of Tempe 79-65 in the Border Conference.

Big Bill Uhl scored 30 points as Dayton edged Cincinnati 71-69 in the first basketball meeting in six years between the two Ohio schools.

Radnor Team Nips Elm Valley 38-37

RADNOR — The Radnor Trojans pulled one out of the fire here last night to nip Elm Valley 38-37 in its annual homecoming battle.

The visitors spurted into a 16-9 lead in the first quarter but Coach Dick Meyer's charges came storming back to narrow the count to 22-21 at the intermission. The Aces clung to their lead through the third stanza and went into the fourth frame nursing a 31-29 edge. Radnor took the lead late in the period and after John Robinson hit from the foul line it stalled out the clock for the win. Charley Maxwell topped the attack with nine points. For Elm Valley, John Humes led the way with 19 points.

Miss Joyce Jones, a Radnor High School tudent, was crowned queen during the halftime festivities. The Elm Valley reserves won the prelim 41-33.

Mt. Gilead Crushes Edison, Wins Ninth

MT. GILEAD — Mt. Gilead's Indians notched their ninth win against a single loss here last night by rolling past Edison 82-62. The local squad jumped into an 18-11 lead in the first period and led throughout the game.

At the half, Mt. Gilead was ahead 36-32 and in the third period cruised to a 54-43 bulge. Ted Moody pumped in 31 points for individual scoring honors. John Mosher added 12 for the winners while Zolman netted 11 and Staley hit for 10.

Weston popped in 25 markers to lead the Edison offensive show. In the preliminary game, Edison's reserves nipped Mt. Gilead's futures 32-31 in an overtime contest.

St. Mary Hosts Rosary Quintet In Tilt Tonight

St. Mary will be seeking to get back on the winning side of the ledger tonight when it entertains Holy Rosary at the Coliseum.

Forrest "Treese" Sharrock, former St. Mary mentor, is head coach of the visiting team and is assisted by Bob Irvin, another former St. Mary athlete.

St. Mary's win streak was broken Tuesday night by a lanky Delphos St. John team which is rated the No. 2 Class B team in Ohio prep school circles.

Littler 6 Under To Better Lead Over Harrison

RANCHO SANTA FE, Calif. (AP)—National Amateur champion Gene Littler of San Diego, who plays like a professional and may soon be one, led 67 pros into the third round of the $15,000 San Diego Open Golf Tournament today.

Littler knocked 6 strokes off par 72 yesterday for a brilliant 66, and 5 off par in the first round, and headed into today's 18-hole round with a total score of 133 and a stroke lead over his nearest threat.

The threat is a good one, however—E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, the veteran from the Ozarks who captured one of his first major tournaments at this same course, Rancho Santa Fe, in a Bing Crosby tournament in 1939.

Harrison, with rounds of 69-67-136 behind him, drawled: "This is the biggest surprise since Purdue beat Michigan State."

Olson Favored In Non-Title TV Event Tonight

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The former boxing champions who are predicting Carl (Bobo) Olson will lose his middleweight title to welter boss Kid Gavilan are doing Beak Bustin' Bobo a favor.

Olson squares off with Joe Rindone of Roxbury, Mass., in a non-title 10-round go here tonight. When Bobo heard that former champions Henry Armstrong and Sugar Ray Robinson had hopped on the Gavilan bandwagon earlier this week, his reaction was practically "So what?"

Actually, however it was as stimulating as one of the halftime pep talks the late Knute Rockne used to give his Notre Dame football players. Olson, in training for Rindone, appeared to dig into his chores with extra vigor.

Olson hasn't said so publicly but he has confided to friends he thinks he can whip Gavilan any time they meet. They clash in Chicago April 2. Incidentally, Robinson had to put on furious last two rounds to save his then middleweight title against Olson in their 15-rounder here in March, 1952.

Olson is a lopsided favorite to win over Rindone tonight. The fight at Winterland Arena, will be nationally televised (ABC 9 p.m., EST), except for a blackout of the local area. Gate receipts are expected to reach $30,000 or more. A referee and two judges will decide the match under the California scoring system of 11 points to the round.

This will be Olson's first fight since he beat England's Randy Turpin for the title last Oct. 21. He is in fine condition, however and looked good in training.

Rindone hasn't boxed since November when he stopped Joey de John in the second round.

Both will come in over 160 pounds.

Prospect Crew Keeps Pace With Victory Over Waldo

Morral retained its front-running position in the Marion County League chase by edging Caledonia while Prospect remained right on the league-leaders' heels with a victory over Waldo in Friday's county league session.

Only major change in the county league standings occurred when Claridon trimmed LaRue to move into sole possession of third spot.

In other action, Meeker edged New Bloomington and Pleasant downed Green Camp.

Action last night left Morral at the top of the league heap with a perfect 8-0 mark, trailed by Prospect, 7-1, and Claridon, 6-2, with but two league sessions remaining. LaRue and Meeker share fourth spot with 5-3 marks while Waldo holds down fifth position with its 4-4 slate.

Next week's league session will be highlighted by Prospect's visit of Morral. Morral also has a date the following week with Claridon there.

Morral's league-leading Wildcats made it eight straight in county league play by edging Caledonia 57-51 on the losers' hardwood. It marked the closest call of the season in loop play for Coach Vern Hensel's charges.

The tilt was close all the way, with Morral holding 17-16, 27-25 and 42-39 advantages during the first three periods. The winners pulled away in the final stanza to clinch the victory.

Caledonia's chances were damaged when Ervin Hunt was hurt midway in the opening period after shoving in seven points. He was forced to leave the game. His head was cut in a scramble for the ball and 10 stitches were required to seal the wound. Coach Len Walls said Hunt, who had usually hit in double figures for the Caledonia quintet, would probably be out until tournament time. Also lost was Doug Whitesmire, who left with his fifth foul late in the third period. Morral lost Jim Shifflet on personals late in the final period.

Both teams were nearly equal on shooting percentages from the field and foul line, with Morral dropping in 33 per cent of its field goal attempts and 13 of 25 foul shots and Caledonia hitting 32 per cent from the field and 11 of 22 attempts from the charity line.

Morral's scoring was distributed evenly among its starters with Junior Bell's 14 points leading the way. John Craycraft and Clair Hensel each added 11 while Shifflet got 10 and Ted Murphy nine. Joe Green paced Caledonia's attack with 17 points while Bob Dickerson and Gene Rice each totaled 11.

Morral copped the reserve contest 31-30 as Neal collected 12 points and Saxton 10. Ronnie Gist with 11 and George Cochran with nine were tops for the losers.

Prospect, avenging last week's upset loss to LaRue, rolled by Waldo 62-44 for its seventh victory in eight county league starts on its home floor.

Coach Bob Kelly's quintet jumped ahead 17-8 in the opening period and by halftime had upped their advantage to 35-16. The winners protected their advantage during the next two stanzas.

Waldo's low total was partly due to its showing from the foul line. Only six of 34 attempts from there hit their mark. Meanwhile Prospect was sinking 12, in 20 attempts.

The win protected Prospect's second-place standing while it was Waldo's fourth loss in eight county league outings.

Tom Hickman was the big gun for the winners with 15 points. He was supported by Bob Rodgers with 12, Ronald Wood with 11 and Bob Matthews with 10. Don Yake was high man for Waldo with 14. Keith Augenstein, absent in three previous county league tilts for Waldo due to mumps, dumped in seven.

Prospect's futures notched a 45-32 victory in the preliminary reserve contest as Dick Byrd dropped in 15 points and Robert

Yankees' Berra Signs, Receives Hike of $5,000

NEW YORK (AP)—Having bagged Yogi Berra, their leading slugger, the New York Yankees today sought to bring some of their other stars into the fold for 1954.

Berra, who batted .296 and clubbed 27 home runs last year, came to terms yesterday after a brief conference with Asst. Gen'l Mgr. Roy Hamey. The hard-hitting catcher reportedly will receive $42,000—a $5,000 boost—for trying to help the bombers to their sixth straight world championship.

Now Hamey and George Weiss, general manager are expected to use their collective talents in attempts to sign Mickey Mantle, Gil McDougald and Whitey Ford. All three have expressed dissatisfaction with the contracts they've been offered.

The Brooklyn Dodgers, the Yankees' World Series opponents two years running, signed Joe Black, their great relief pitcher of 1952. Much to Black's relief he will receive the same salary — around $12,000—as he did last season.

"We don't like to cut a man for one bad year after he has had a good one," Vice-President Buzzy Bavasi explained. Black, used only sparingly, slumped to a 6-3 record in '53 after his brilliant 15-4 record the previous year.

The Detroit Tigers, with the signing of righthander Paul Foytack, brought their satisfied group to 16. The Milwaukee Braves received the signed contract of utility infielder Billy Klaus.

The Berra-Yankees get-together came as somewhat of a surprise —particularly to the catcher. He had previously returned the club's initial contract unsigned.

"It was so easy, maybe I should have asked for more," he said.

Trabert, Seixas Win

SYDNEY, Australia (AP) — Tony Trabert, the U.S. champion from Cincinnati, and Vic Seixas, the Wimbledon titleholder from Philadelphia, won their first round matches today in the Australian National Tennis Championships.

Trabert beat Warren Kennedy, an unseeded lefthander from Victoria 6-4, 7-5, 6-4 and Seixas defeated 20-year-old John O'Brien of Sydney 4-6, 6-4, 6-1, 6-3.

Atrocities

By George Sokolsky

Senator Charles E. Potter of Michigan, chairman of the subcommittee on Korea war atrocities of the McCarthy committee, has prepared a report on what actually happened there. In this report, now available to the public, he says:

SOKOLSKY

"The purpose of the investigation was to bring to the attention of the world in general and to the American people in particular, the type of vicious and barbaric enemy we have been fighting in Korea, to expose their horrible acts committed against our troops, and to foster appropriate legislation."

-:-

HE REPORTS that as of November, 1953, 5,639 American troops died "as a result of war crimes." This figure is regarded as conservative and incomplete because:

"The above American fatalities figure does not represent the total number of American victims of atrocities because many victims survived and were either repatriated or in some other manner found their way back to the United Nations lines. The conservative estimate of probable American victims as of June 1953, was 6,113 which figure is expected to increase when the 'Big Switch' investigations are completed.

"Evidence further showed that the total number of reported civilian victims reaches the number 35,459 persons, with a probable verifiable estimate of 17,354; and that the total number of reported victims among United Nations forces (including United States troops) was 20,785 with a probable verifiable estimate of 11,622."

It is a horrible picture and needs thinking about, particularly in view of the present tendency to consider recognition of Communist China.

WHILE IN SOME minds, these atrocities are regarded as having been committed by North Koreans, the fact is that North Korea is now a fief of Communist China and has been completely mastered and absorbed. That country may be regarded as having ceased to exist as a separate and independent sovereignty.

These are the conclusions of the Potter subcommitee:

(1). The North Korean and Chinese Communist armies were guilty of the following war crimes against humanity committed against American personnel during the conflict in Korea from June 25, 1950 until July 27, 1953:

Murder; attempted murder; malicious and aggravated assaults; various acts of torture, i.e., perforating flesh of prisoners with lighted cigarettes and inserting a can opener into a prisoner's open wound; starvation; deliberate policy of fostering starvation; experimental medical operations; coerced Communist indoctrination; bayonetting.

(2). The Communist government in China is equally responsible and guilty as the Communist government in Korea for war atrocities committed against Americans.

(3). VIRTUALLY every provision of the Geneva Convention governing the treatment of war prisoners was purposely violated or ignored by the North Korean and Chinese forces.

(4). More than 5,000 American prisoners of war died because of Communist war atrocities and more than a thousand who survived were victims of war crimes.

(5). Several thousand American soldiers who have not been repatriated were victims of war crimes, died in action, or are presently confined behind the Iron Curtain.

(6). Communist forces violated the 'Little Swich Agreement' by failing to repatriate the sick and wounded prisoners in accordance with the Panmunjom Truce.

(7). The Communists in Korea, by false propaganda, have attempted to inaccurately portray the treatment accorded by them to American prisoners of war."

-:-

THE ONLY moral conclusion possible, in view of this report, is that the North Koreans and Chinese Communists ought to be declared outlaw nations by the United Nations.

Despite these atrocities, there is a persistent movement in this country to influence public opinion to recognize Communist China.

The basis for such a movement is that British assumption that Communist China is an undeniable fact, that we shall all have to deal with that country sooner or later, and that therefore we might as well get on with it.

This position evades every moral consideration.

Communist China is at war with us and with the United Nations. Is the profit of that war to be recognition?

New Gimmick

By Victor Riesel

Man and boy, I've covered this beat for 25 years—and I thought I knew every gimmick. But the boys in Detroit have just come up with a new one. They roam around town with an official of a casket workers union. Just a hint, see? Don't argue, see? Such subtlety!

RIESEL

This leads to the background of the new Congressional probe into the rackets, with sub-committee chairman, Congressman George Bender, has just told me will be "a sweeping investigation into charges of nationwide racketeering" and which, he says, he will make with the cooperation of some labor leaders.

It leads, also, to a nationwide network which controls the distribution of juke boxes, vending machines, coin-operated kiddie rides and a hundred other allied fields. So let me tell you the full story.

You can begin tracing it, as Congress will, with a visit recently paid Detroit restaurant and bar owners. A chap by the name of William Bufalino, head of juke box local 985, dropped in. With him was a fellow whose card said he was with a casket workers union.

WHEN THIS VISIT was brought to the attention of Congressional probers in Detroit recently, the Federal counsel asked, "What interest do the casket workers have in juke boxes? . . . Do any of those location (restaurant) owners see any significance in a representative of the casket workers coming along with the others?" I'll make book on that one. Point is that Mr. Bufalino was making the rounds of eateries and pubs "to convince" the owners to remove the juke boxes already installed—and replace them by music contraptions owned by friends of his juke box union.

As one juke box owners association official testified:

" . . . the union representatives have been in our locations telling them (the owners) that we weren't in the good graces of the union, that they should throw our machine out and put somebody else's in."

Who says this? Bufalino. Who's Bufalino? He is officially president of the juke box local. Who made him president? According to Congressional testimony, he was "moved in under the pressure from Angelo Meli." And who is Meli?

—:—

THE KEFAUVER REPORT lists him as all-powerful in Detroit. He is a friend of Sam Perrone, the man charged with attempting to assassinate Walter Reuther.

Meli, now up for deportation, has at least 17 arrests ranging from murder to armed robbery to extortion to kidnaping.

In addition, Meli is the uncle of Bufalino's wife. Shortly after Bufalino "was moved in," the old president of the juke box local, moved out—to Chicago. Then, according to testimony, Bufalino insisted that "anybody that owns and operates a jukebox, vending machine, such as cigarets . . .ball gum machines in some instances, and even peanut machines on bars . . . has been forced to join the union and pay $20 a month."

Mind you, this means that the owners must join the union and pay $5 a week dues! This includes kiddie horses and airplane rides in some supermarkets.

But, even to place your machines and pay the $20 tribute, you must be in the good graces of Mr. Bufalino. And just who is in the good graces of this gentleman? His brother-in-law, Vincent Meli, nephew of Angelo Meli. Vincent owns the Meltone Music Co., which owns juke box machines and just loves to get them placed around town — any town.

ALSO MR. BUFALINO believes in vertical unionism an industrialism. He helps the boys place the machines—and is in the music record cutting business himself. It just happens you need records to make music on these machines.

Well, multiply all this by a score of big cities, and you'll get the picture of the network in which these men are involved and on which Congressman Bender will unloose some 10 investigators.

Bender believes he will have the assistance of many union officials.

"There are many union leaders who detest racketeering as much as anyone else. This is their chance to get the crowd off their backs. I will not castigate any group. No union, or union member, will be pilloried because some mob has muscled its way in. My labor friends know I've voted their way when I thought they were right. Labor will benefit by this probe."

There are thousands awaiting the chance to get out from under the terror of the tough few. This is their chance. Congressman Bender tells me he has "very broad powers, and juke boxes are just one little item, of many items. We're going to look into all rackets."

Fagophobia

By Bob Considine

Seems to me the cigarette people brought a lot of their present woes upon themselves, or had them brought upon them by their advertising people.

Not content that "Mule Hair"—Henry Morgan's favorite brand—is just a doll of a smoke, the big wheels of the advertising department had to make this pleasant blend of tobacco, Mule Hair, molasses, glycerine and a British white paper a combination elixir, deodorant, detergent, stimulant, depressant, and a cure for most of the diseases of man.

You can hurt yourself by smoking too many cigarettes. You can hurt yourself by leaning over the chimney of the Consolidated Edison Power plant, too, and breathing too much of the stuff that comes up.

Your faithful old car can kill you real dead if you let it smoke in a closed garage for a little bit.

You can get real stumbly and jobless drinking whisky. If you like to stay up late at night, you can hurt yourself doing that, too.

YOU CAN swim too much, work too much, play too much, take too much sun, take too little sun. We are a natural magnet for hurts, and a great many of them come to us from pleasant practices overdone.

But it seems to me that no industry ever had a stranger guilt-complex than the cigarette people. It manifested itself not in apology but in the nature of quackery.

The industry might not have been in its present state of jitters (and nobody has conclusively proved that the cigarette tars that caused skin cancers in mice cause lung cancers in humans) if it had not first aroused the suspicions of otherwise contented smokers as to what this or that smoke would not do to you.

Somewhere, sometime, a company like "Mule Hair" should have come out and said, in one of those nice chatty ads, 'Well, customers, if you want to smoke 'Mule Hairs' until the tar comes out of your ears, go right ahead, but don't go telling people that we're responsible for making you honk like an old Maxwell when you wake up in the morning.

YOU DRINK a little iodine every time you spoon in a mouthful of spinach, but you don't drink it by the bottle do you, you dope?

"So don't knock yourself out on 'Mule Hairs.' Treat 'em like you'd treat a drink or two, or a kid or two. Most people like a drink or two or a kid or two, but hey don't like to get plastered, or open an orphanage. See?"

Well, it didn't happen that way through the years. "Mule Hairs" singly or by the million were guaranteed to cure everything from acne to a bad case of zymosis. If you had a bad sneeze, a "Mule Hair" would cure it.

If you had no sneeze at all, and it was making talk in he neighborhood, one long, bone-building, health - giving, intoxicating drag on a "Mule Hair" would give you one fit to blow the bottoms out of the shipping left at Bikini.

Each company's advertising wizard - in - charge seemed to operate on the premise that the only way to avoid a whole host of physical and social catastrophes was to smoke his particular brand. Not only that but the very practice of smoking was subtly condemned.

IT'S A FINE practice, I think. But reading through the lines of an old "Mule Hair" ad I see that addiction to any other brand was likely to produce baldness, myopio, ostracism at this or that club, the censure of the AMA, Broadway and the sports world.

There were years of obliquely saying, "Ah-ah! Drop tha confounded, foul weed that will gnaw off your tonsils with the first breath, make your fingers look like they've had the yellow plague, cause you to be expelled from the Grand Central rest room, and make everyone know by association that you are not a person of discernment, taste, integrity, purpose, and valor above and beyond the call of duty."

Is it any wonder that when a few docs came along to point out that lung cancer is on the upswing in consonance with cigarette sales (and TV, auto, oleo, coal, oil, and automatic card shuffler sales) that a generation of cigarette readers is inclined to believe the worst?

Meeker came from behind to edge New Bloomington 47-45 for its fifth league victory in eight county league starts on the losers' floor.

The losers held a seven - point lead in the final period but fell behind as Meeker rallied. New Bloomington held a slim 15-14 lead at the first quarter but fell behind 26-23 at intermission. The losers fought back to pass Meeker in the third period, which concluded with New Bloomington leading 37-34, only to lose the lead in the final round.

Meeker actually won the hard-fought tilt from the foul line where it dropped in 15 markers. New Bloomington hit for nine points from the charity circle.

Ron Newland and Dean topped the Meeker scoring with 12 points apiece. Sims and Dick Sharp each contributed nine points to the winners' cause. David Johnson dumped in 14 for the losers and Floyd Beers added 11.

New Bloomington copped the reserve tilt 38-34 as John Boblenz pumped in 20 points for the winners. Hudnall had 14 for Meeker. Meeker won the preliminary junior high tilt.

Pleasant escaped plunging into the loop depths by breezing past Green Camp 68-59 on its floor. It marked Pleasant's third league victory as opposed to five defeats in county league action.

Led by Jerry Gorby, the county loop's leading scorer, and a sophomore center, Charlie Leffler, Pleasant led all the way in handing Green Camp its seventh league defeat against two loop wins.

Pleasant shot out front 21-15 in the opening period and led 43-25 at halftime and 53-39 after three periods of play. A twenty-point outburst by the losers in the final period couldn't offset the Pleasant lead.

The losing Green Camp squad hit on 13 of 19 attempts from the charity circle while Pleasant dropped in 12 free throws while missing 19.

Gorby dropped in 23 points from his forward post to pace the Pleasant attack. Leffler chipped in with 17 while John Freshour added 14. Louie Finch was top man for Green Camp with 20 while Green came in with 18.

In a preliminary junior high game, Green Camp walked off with a 36-32 win. Eddie Newell led the losing Pleasant quintet with eight points while Showers had 12 for the winners.

Playing their best game of the season, Claridon's Hornets swarmed over LaRue 63-47 to move into undisputed possession of third spot in the county league standings. Both clubs went into the contest at Claridon with 5-2 league marks.

Claridon rolled out front 20-9 in the opening period and sealed the win in the second period, outscoring LaRue again for a 35-19 bulge at halftime. LaRue fought Claridon on even terms in the second half.

A portion of Claridon's final margin of victory came on the 17 foul shots it made on 20 attempts from the charity circle. LaRue pumped in nine of 14 free throw attempts.

Gene Jessie led the Claridon attack, pushing in 20 points. He was assisted by Castle with 18 and Gary Price with 11. Larry Hickman and Hosey each had 14 for the losers. Gene Cooper, usually one of LaRue's top scorers, was held to five points.

Claridon was also successful in the reserve encounter, winning 40-23 from LaRue. Larry Row pumped in 13 points for the victors while Isom had 12 for LaRue

Each team sunk 19 field goals but Union's margin came at the foul line where 21 foul shots were sunk to Richwood's 16.

George Harbold and Brooks each had 17 for the victorious Union team. Tom Shields paced the Richwood attack with 19 points and was assisted by Larry Chapman with 13 and Max Hoffman with 10.

Dave McClain Sets Ram Scoring Mark

UPPER SANDUSKY — Dave McClain set a new scoring mark for the Upper Sandusky gymnasium here last night as he led the Upper Rams to a 65-56 conquest of Crestline.

The winners led all the way, jumping ahead 20-13 in the first period and holding 36-24 and 52-37 leads in the next two periods before Crestline's rally fell short. The win gave Upper a 1-1 mark in Northern Ohio League play and 4-5 log for the season while it was Crestline's second straight NOL defeat and ninth in 11 outings.

Bill Klopfstein was high for the losers with 19 points. Crestline took the reserve encounter 40-35. Upper entertains Carey Tuesday.

Galion Tigers Win 53-50 at Foul Line

GALION—Three foul shots won the game 53-50 for Galion Friday night, in one of the scrappiest games of the season here against Bucyrus.

The score was tied seven times with Bucyrus Redmen leading most of the way through the first half. Rivalry that has existed for many years between the two schools flared up again with renewed impetus last night.

The game was Galion's first Northern Ohio League victory. They lost to Norwalk. Galion now has a 6-4 record, counting the Alumni victory.

Big Tom Quay led Coach Jack Shuck's Tigers with 18. Glenn Butterman was high point maker for Coach John Hutton's Redmen. He had a total of 13 points. Last night's game was the second victory this year for the Galion Tigers over the Bucyrus Redmen.

At the end of the first quarter, Bucyrus led 14-13, and again at the half 33-27. A rally by Galion in the third period when 15 points were added to the score, while the visitors were held to five, figured greatly in Bucyrus' defeat. The teams were even again in the final spirited stanza of the game with Bucyrus edging Galion by one point when the visitors made 12 to Galion's 11.

Marion Police Investigate 4 Auto Mishaps

No Injuries Reported In City; Morral Man Cited, Denies Charge

Dennis Collins, 33, of Morral pleaded not guilty in Municipal Court this morning when he answered a charge of leaving the scene of an accident.

He was arrested as a result of one of four accidents reported by city police. No county accidents were reported by the patrol or sheriff.

The charges against Collins arose out of a collision on Florence St. at 10:45 a.m. yesterday. A truck, allegedly driven by Collins and a car driven by James E. Ralston, 23, of 589 Henry St., sideswiped.

Police arrested Collins less than an hour later when he went to the police department on other business.

Ralston's car was slightly damaged on the left front fender and no damage to Collins' truck was reported. No date has been set for Collins' hearing.

Three cars were involved in an accident on Windsor St. near W. Columbia St. at 4:22 p.m. yesterday. Two cars were driven by Wilbur Christian McCauley, 56, of 499 Smith St. and John Logan McIntire of 320 Windsor St. The third car was owned by Thomas Kelley Hale of 328 W. Columbia St.

According to police, McCauley's car was parked on Windsor St. behind Hale's car. McCauley pulled out into traffic when his car was hit by McIntire's and knocked into the Hale car.

McIntire's car received extensive damage on the front end and was removed by wrecker. McCauley's car was moderately damaged on the front fenders while Hale's car received minor damage on the left rear bumper.

A taxi driven by William B. Milgate, 30, of 220 E. Church St. and a car driven by Harry J. Cline Jr., 35, of 263 Johnson St. received minor damage when they collided at 5:45 yesterday afternoon at the intersection of E. Center and Johnson Sts.

The accident occurred when Milgate's car, heading west on E. Center St., hit the Cline car, which was southbound on Johnson St. and turning right onto E. Center St.

Two trucks were involved in a collision at the intersection of Leader and Silver Sts. at 2:40 p.m. yesterday.

A truck driven by Jack Miller, 68, of 386 Milburn Ave. was extensively damaged on the front end and was removed by a wrecker. A truck driven by Louis M. Christiansen, 56, of near Pemberville, O., was undamaged.

J. B. Bray Honored by Members of Exchange Club

'Golden Book' Award Marks Long Record Of Civic Service

J. B. (JACK) BRAY (center) receives a copy of the proclamation with which the Exchange Club enrolled his name in Marion's Book of Golden Deeds, honoring him for his many years of community service. Making the presentation is Edward McAndrews, chairman of the committee which made the selection. Fred Schultz, president of the Exchange Club, is at the right.

J. B. (Jack) Bray of 401 Forest St. was enrolled in Marion's Book of Golden Deeds yesterday in recognition of his many years of community service.

The honor was bestowed on Bray by the Marion Exchange Club in a ceremony at the Hotel Harding.

Bray has been active for several years in the Community Foundation, United Appeals, YMCA, Civic Planning Commission, Aviation Committee, Chamber of Commerce and First Presbyterian Church.

Bray's name will be listed in the Book of Golden Deeds which is kept on display in the Marion Public Library. Bray received a copy of the citation which will go in the book and a small replica of the book itself.

The Book of Golden Deeds is project of the Exchange Club and was started last year when the club enrolled Earl N. Hale, juvenile court adviser.

The selection was made by a special committee which questioned leading citizens to obtain their views on who should be selected. Edward McAndrew headed the committee.

The club proclamation naming Bray to the book said he was being honored "in recognition of his devoted adherence to the Golden Rule throughout his many years given in unselfish service to our community."

The honor came as a surprise to Bray who had been invited to the meeting to give a talk on the Marion YMCA.

Bray prefaced his address to the group by thanking the group and saying that the honor had swept him off his feet.

In his talk, he briefly traced the history of the YMCA nationally, internationally and in Marion, emphasizing that the "C", standing for Christian was the foundation stone of the organization.

Bray called the new $900,000 YMCA building "Marion's greatest achievement," pointing out that it was built with money raised through donations, not through taxation.

He added that despite rising costs the building committee was able to give the public everything it had been promised during the fund-raising driving.

Quoting some statistics on the building's use, Bray said that 99 groups use it regularly and some 250 groups have used it in the three months it has been in operation. An average of about 1,500 people use it every day, and some 6,000 meals have been served there.

Bray also said the Y was fortunate in having a "competent and loyal staff."

Bray also described the activities of the Y's Saturday Fun Club which provides a full day of wholesome recreation for some 72 children who have problems and are recommended to the Y by churches, schools and social agencies.

Bray encouraged adult membership in the Y. He said if enough people were to join the organization it would require less outside aid and might even become self-supporting.

He added that some 4,000 people contributed to the Y building and that they should use it. Bray also added, however, that no boy or girl is ever denied membership because of lack of funds.

Bray also expressed the hope that the Y would become the social and recreational center of Marion. He placed heavy emphasis on the organization's program for men and boys, women and girls and family groups.

City Buses

The company employs 16 drivers with weekly pay checks for each of them averaging about $55, according to a statement made by Davis during the meeting.

This means the weekly pay roll for the drivers alone is about $880. Others to be paid are Kreisel Poorman, and company mechanics.

Discussion later turned to an attempt to determine the exact financial position of the company. Haldeman asked if any progress had been made by a group of merchants to sell $10,000 worth of company stock. He said it was his understanding one of the main problems of the company was indebtedness which had tied up funds and prevented payment of the pay checks.

Creditor Agreement

Kreisel admitted the company was in financial difficulties but added that provisions of the stock sale plan were agreed to by the largest creditors of the bus company. One of these provision was that each creditor was to be paid 10 per cent of the amount due upon completion of the sale with additional 10 per cent payments each six months until paid in full, he said.

It was during this part of the discussions that Mayor Robinson said he understood the merchants who offered to sell the stock for the company had raised a total of some $700.

He said this money was being held in escrow until the entire amount was raised. This means none of the money could be touched to help the company out of its immediate difficulty over the pay checks.

This also brought forth comments by Haldeman and Lister, that it seems doubtful the merchants could raise the necessary money.

Haldeman then asked Kreise the actual net worth of the company and Kreisel presented a profit and loss statement. This showed that at the end of November the company's liabilities amounted to $17,000 more than its asset..

With this Haldeman told Kreisel: "The best thing for you to do is cease operations immediately and voluntarily surrender your franchise so we can try to get a new bus company in as soon as possible."

Kreisel said he would have to get some advice and give this proposition considerable thought.

Haldeman and other members of his committee then left the room for several minutes for a private conference and on their return again advised Kreisel to surrender his franchise. Haldeman told him either the company must surrender the franchise voluntarily or the city would cancel it.

By 5 p.m. yesterday, Kreisel had reached no decision on the ultimatum. He said he had placed some long distance telephone calls seeking advice on what course of action to take. He would not say where or to whom the calls were made.

"I just can't walk out of this business and leave all this equipment sitting," he said. Haldeman had asked that he decide what action he would take by 3:30 p.m. yesterday, but Kresisel said he doubted he could make such a decision before Monday.

The bus company president still had not come to any decision today.

He said he couldn't understand the action of the drivers in walking out since yesterday was "no different than any other Friday" in recent weeks. For some time, he said, drivers had been asked to be careful when they cashed their checks, to be sure there was enough cash in the firm's account to pay them.

Union officials confirmed that the drivers cooperated with the company in the matter of cashing checks, some holding off for a day or two, but said that the situation was growing worse week by week and came to a head Friday when none of the drivers could get their's cashed.

Mayor Robinson today reported he hoped to set up a meeting, possibly by Tuesday, to attempt to iron out the bus situation.

Election Petitions Filed

A Republican and a Democrat seeking central committeemen posts from Claridon Township South precinct filed petitions Friday with the Board of Elections.

They were H. Clay Smith of near Caledonia, for the Republican post, and Clifford Strine of Caledonia, for the Democratic post.

NORWICH, Conn. (UP)—George E. Luhr was arrested after he bought a new automobile in Elmwood, Ill., and drove it here, a distance of 2,200 miles, without markers. Police said Luhr "just didn't bother" to register the car.

Byrd, Others Disagree

Ike's Military Proposal Splits Democratic Ranks

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Byrd (D-Va) disagreed vigorously today with Democratic colleagues who said President Eisenhower's new military concept may increase the risk of a world atomic war.

Byrd, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said in an interview he is "strongly in favor" of Eisenhower's plan to reduce American ground forces while discouraging any aggression with the threat of massive atomic retaliation delivered by air.

In thus taking his stand for the administration's fundamental defense decision, Byrd lined up on the opposite side from Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) and other Democrats who lit into the Eisenhower military program.

"I believe the President is proposing the only program by which we can maintain our defenses without insolvency," Byrd declared.

The defense budget proposed for the fiscal year beginning July 1 would be four billion dollars under the current year's.

Gore complained that so far as he knew no Democrats had been consulted on the big defense decisions. He questioned whether events might not expose the "massive retaliation" theory as "a big bluff."

Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican floor leader, hastened to reply that to doubt the possibility the United States might use an atom bomb on a city considered a legitimate target was to make a "very dangerous assumption." He said such an assumption might give comfort to Moscow and he added:

"I would not want the men in the Kremlin to miscalculate that such a strike might not be made."

Gore had expressed doubt that either of two great powers possessing weapons that could obliterate each other's cities would take the first step in so using them.

Byrd gave his views in an interview today, saying:

"We must keep the lead in atomic and other weapons and with the foreign bases which are coming into being we can make this threat of retaliation so real that I don't believe the Communists will dare move toward war."

Wilson Argues for View

Secretary of Defense Wilson expressed similar opinions in a Pentagon news conference yesterday. He said also he thought the Army, under the reduction planned for it, could still carry out its mission. If a big land war should develop, he said, "it would seem to be a pretty sure bet it would not be on the continental United States."

And he argued that in such a case land forces could be built up quickly.

issory notes to be retired in annual installments over a period of approximately 13 years. Use of this plan, they said, would not add to the tax rate.

Purchase of 77 voting machines would cost an estimated $11,650, but would save the county $200,379 over a 20-year period, elections officials asserted in their report.

Commissioners Monday questioned whether the net savings from the use of voting machines would actually be as great as the Board of Elections report indicated. However, commissioners said they would obtain machines if voters wanted them.

If machines are not purchased permitting consolidation of several precincts, the Board of Elections maintains it will be faced with the task of setting up 18 additional precincts by the November general election to take care of the increasing number of voters. According to law, they say, no more than 400 voters may be assigned to one precinct.

A committee from the Marion League of Women Voters is meeting with the Board of Elections Monday evening for the purpose of obtaining information on advantages and disadvantages of voting machines. This committee then will take action on distributing information to Marion County voters.

The committee is being headed by Mrs. Francis Wanda, voters' service chairman of the League, who is being assisted by Mrs. William Clauer, local program chairman.

from the Communist side would be checked for their legality. The Indians have asked the Reds to supply the camp.

The Reds' refusal to take back the prisoners is based on the Red stand that the Indians should have kept them until their fate was decided by a Korean peace conference.

The U.N. Command held that all prisoners had to be freed as civilians last midnight.

It liberated more than 14,000 anti-Red Chinese and more than 7,000 North Koreans returned to it by the Indians. The Chinese were en route to Formosa and the Koreans were deep in South Korea.

Pike Chairman Calls for Quick Start on Survey

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—James W. Shocknessy, chairman of the Ohio Turnpike Commission, has asked State Highway Director Samuel O. Linzell to begin immediately a preliminary study to determine the practicality of a highway between Cincinnati and Conneaut.

In a letter released Thursday Shocknessy said he hopes financing for the project, if found feasible, would be completed by June 1955.

He told Linzell he would like a preliminary report on the practicality of the route by May 15.

The state controlling board released $135,000 to Linzell last week to finance a preliminary survey for a route which might include a spur to Toledo originating near Columbus and a connection to the Pennsylvania Turnpike near Petersburg in Mahoning County.

Crawford Auditor Plans Resignation

BUCYRUS — Albert L. Stetzer, announced here Friday that he will resign his post as Crawford County auditor about March 31 to accept a position as assistant cashier at the Bucyrus City Bank.

The announcement was made through a joint statement issued by Stetzer and W. A. Blicke, president of the bank.

Stetzer had until recently planned to run for re-election.

County commissioners will appoint a successor to serve until the next general election in November if there are no candidates for a short term and no write-ins at the general election.

home, "if they were going to court-martial him."

"I don't understand what he could have done to any of them boys," she said, referring to the charge that her 23-year-old son tried to win the Reds' favor at the expense of his fellow prisoners.

"The little fellow is sick," she added. "He's been spiting up blood. If they are going to punish him, why didn't they do it over there (in Korea)? This worry will kill us all."

The young soldier's 78-year-old father said:

"If they will let me take his punishment, they can call me and I'll be glad to do it for him . . . He's no more Communist than I am."

Told his son could face a possible death sentence, the deaf, aged man added:

"I don't care if I die. I've been here a long time."

The elder Dickenson indicated he though his son's three-year imprisonment by the Communists should have been punishment enough.

"Anyone that will take a little boy from the mountains and punish him for three years . . . it is too much for anyone," he said.

Icy roads made it impossible to reach Cpl. Dickenson's bride of less than two months for her reaction to the court-martial charges. At a home farther up the mountainside she was spending the night with her husband's half-brother, Grover Dickenson, and his wife.

Only last Thursday the young woman accompanied her husband to Bristol, Va., where the corporal caught a bus to Washington for treatment at Walter Reed Hospital. She hasn't seen him since.

Germany; improvements in the status of Berlin, a divided city deep inside the Soviet zone; freer access between the East and West zones of Germany.

The Soviet Union has already indicated she puts little faith in non-aggression guarantees, and will insist that the European defense treaty and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization are threats to Soviet security as long as the Western defense organizations exist.

However, a direct offer of a non-aggression guarantee by West Germany to Russia is considered a possibility.

A morning strategy conference at the French headquarters in Berlin was on tap for Big Three Western ministers—U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden.

Molotov is due in Berlin today. He is expected to swap courtesy calls with his opposite numbers before the conference opens at 9 a.m. EST Monday.

Dulles' aides say the American secretary plans to tell the ministers he intends to leave Berlin before Feb. 28. He has arranged to attend a session of the Pan American Union at Caracas on March 1. If he leaves before the talks end,

Census of New School Pupils Will Be Taken

Parents who have young children who will enter the public school system during the next two years have been requested to notify the school administration.

The request was made by Joseph Whisler, director of pupil personnel whose office is making a survey to determine the number of students who will be enrolled in the public school system during the next two academic years.

Whisler asked that parents who have a child who will reach the age of six before Dec. 1 or the age of five before Nov. 1, 1955, contact the school where the child will enroll or the pupil personnel office (2-0540).

School Activities Topic For Radio Panel Sunday

"How Can We Get More Students To Participate in School Activities?" will be the topic for discussion on the Marion Youth Forum program Sunday from 3 to 3:30 p.m. over Radion Station WMRN.

Moderator will be Harold Edwards, director of instruction for the Marion public schools. Students on the panel will be Carol Hollensen and Lewis Thompson of Harding High School, Emily Rinnert of Eber Baker, Judy Steck of Edison Junior High, and Marlo Barrett of Taft.

Adult guest will be Mrs. Opal Gabler, instructor of folk dancing for various Marion groups and wife of Cecil W. Gabler, principal of Harding.

Snow Lessens, Most of U.S. Still Shivering

(Picture on Page 1)

By The Associated Press

Snow which piled up to nearly a half foot in sections of the southwest tapered off today but it was on the chilly side over wide areas and into New England.

The snow fall, and freezing rain in some areas, slicked highways and driving conditions were hazardous in many parts of the storm belt.

Snowfalls at Washington, D. C., and Charlotte and Greensboro, N. C., measured more than 6 inches. There were more than 4 inches on the ground at Richmond, Lynchburg and Roanoke, Va. The snow belt extended from southwestern Virginia to southern New Jersey.

The storm center that moved through the southeast states yesterday and spread locally heavy amounts of rain and snow also brought cold air. Below freezing temperatures extended as far south as central Louisiana, while the freezing line covered northern South Carolina.

It was colder in the northeast with readings ranging from 11 above at Boston to 8 to 15 degrees below zero in northern Maine. At the same time it was 18 above in Washington and 17 in New York City.

There was some warming in the mid-continent after nearly a week of cold weather. However, sub-zero readings were reported again today in sections of northern Montana and northern North Dakota.

elor—said in Kermit, Tex., that she hopes her son will come home "and face whatever he has to face."

The fate of the 21 Americans who still refuse to come back to the U. S. forces remains in doubt. They are on a sit-down strike with 326 other pro-Reds in their camp. The Indians unlocked camp gates last night—deadline for the release of all prisoners.

The UN Command virtually told the Communists today to take back the 21 Americans, 325 South Koreans and 1 Briton—but the Reds would not do so.

Secretary of Defense Wilson said yesterday the 21 Americans are "free to do what they want," but that they had better act quickly, if they have any ideas of coming home.

The Army is known to have prepared "undesirable" discharges for the 21, but Pentagon officials said the Red refusal to take them back from their Indian guards had in effect, given them a brief period of grace.

YOUR HOME . . . Today and Tomorrow

By DOUGLAS TUOMEY

Even the most experienced home mechanic will confess, if he wants to be truthful, that he has cracked or ruined many a tile in his day in an effort to bore holes in them.

Actually, I know of no meaner job than that of trying to bore holes for a new towel rack or other bathroom fixture when the wall is sheathed in glasslike tile.

Practically every plumber, or other skilled mechanic, who has to perform this job once in a while has had his own particular formula for a successful borin. But the formulas did not always work out.

Tile drilling or boring is quite simple now because there is on the market a drill, or "bit," as they are called, which will enable anyone to drill through tile without breaking it.

The secret lies in the special head, made of a new metal composition, which starts the point without the operator having to exert a lot of pressure. After a hole is through, it can be reamed to larger size with standard metal bits or drills. It should be said here that any work around materials as brittle and easily cracked as tile should be done slowly, and with a minimum of pressure against it. Tile does not always have a solid backing of cement or mortar, particularly old tilework, and this is the cause of most of the breakage.

There are many places where drilling is required through concrete, cement block or other types of masonry. This special drill will go through any of them with equal ease. It is recommended that they not be used in a high speed electric drill, but rather with a hand drill which enables you to get the feel of the material.

Aid for the Ailing House

By ROGER WHITMAN

Q: We are having trouble with our dormer windows. When it rains, damp spots appear under the sills. Is water running along the inside sash or does it come in on the window ledge? We had new flashing put in the valleys and new siding was put on the dormers.

A: The fact that moisture appears under the window sills usually indicates that rain water is finding its way around some part of the window, generally between the window frame and the exterior wall. All such open spaces should be filled with a caulking compound applied with a caulking gun. You should also check the condition of the joints in the various sections of the window frame itself. All open spaces, even small crevices, should be filled with putty. This also applies to the window sill. You might also examine the condition of the roofing on the dormers.

Q: The hearth of my stone fireplace is black slate which is quite dull and dingy. How can we clean it and make it attractive?

A: Scrub the slate with a strong solution of one of the new detergent powders, then rinse with clear water. Allow the stone to dry thoroughly, then apply a liberal coat of raw linseed oil thinned with 25 per cent of turpentine. After an hour or so for soaking, wipe off all excess. Repeat the treatment in about a week's time.

Q: Our living room and dinette are separated by an archway. Since both rooms are rather small, we are thinking of knocking out the wall to make one large room. Can you advise us how to go about the replastering so there will be no seam showing where the end of the wall was before? Is there any danger to the house itself when knocking out the wall?

A: The bare area where the partition wall was located can be easily filled by placing metal lath and then plastering with patching plastering. The lines of demarcation will not be visible, if the plaster is made flush with the surrounding wall area. If the wall separating the two rooms supports a partition wall above, it will be necessary to place another joist alongside the existing one to make up for the support that was originally provided by the wall below. Information on this procedure will be found in books on carpentry at your local public library.

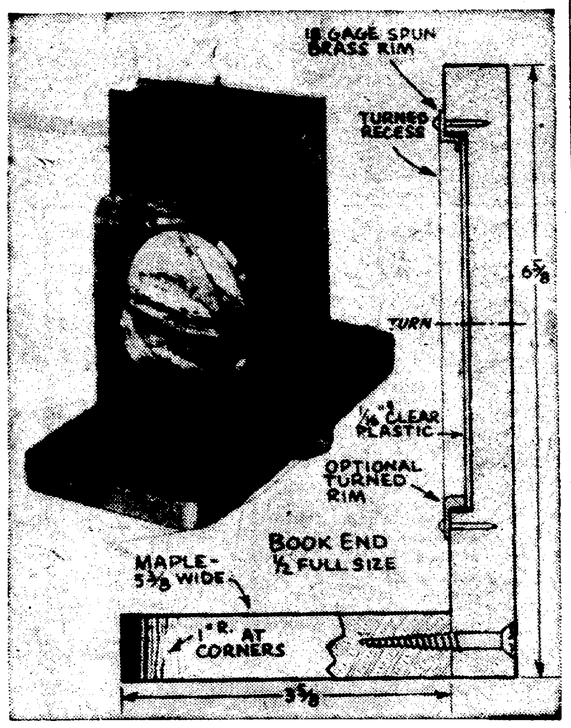
Home Workshop Project



By The Associated Press

If sailing—or the sea—is one of your favorite subjects, you can add a nautical touch to almost any table with a set of "porthole" book ends that can be turned out in your home workshop in an evening. The design shown here was worked out by the Delta power tool division of the Rockwell Manufacturing Co.

You'll need two pieces of maple. One piece will be 1 by 3⅝ by 5⅜ inches. The second piece will be 1 by 3⅝ by 6⅝ inches. For the porthole effect, you will require an 18-gage spun brass rim and a 1/16-inch sheet of clear plastic.

The book end has a turned recess with a picture framed in the "porthole" rim. The rim is easily spun on a hollow chuck, because it is nothing more than a shallow tray with the center cut out.

Building Permits

Two building permits with total valuation of $4,800 were issued at the Marion City Clerk's office during the week from Jan. 15 through 21.

This was the same number as for the previous week when two permits for a total valuation of $9,125 were issued.

New Construction: G and G Homes, Inc., house on Clinton St., $4,000.

Improvements: Ivan Brown, 457 Silver St., remodel porch, $800.

They seek an order prohibiting enforcement of the tax.

Three Ohio Youths Held In Robbery in Georgia

SWAINSBORO, Ga. (AP)—County officials yesterday held three Ohio youths in the beating and robbery of J. W. Cullars, 68, a grocery store and service station operator near here.

Held were William D. Lowery, 18, and Jack D. Lowery, 16, brothers, of Bremen, and Wilson Holbrook, 17, of Logan. County police said they were charged with armed robbery.

Highway patrolmen said Cullars was beaten about the head and face with a lug wrench and suffered severe injuries.

Builders Plan for '54

Movement to Trade-In Houses Growing Bigger

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER
AP Real Estate Editor

How to trade in your house for a new one—the way you trade in your automobile—was the biggest problem tackeld by the home building industry in the past year

Progress was made in ironing out the wrinkles — persuading banks and other lending institutions to play ball with builders, who would modernize traded-in houses to make them marketable —a now the idea is expected to grow into the biggest development for the home building industry and the home owning public for 1954

New Houses Too Small

This can mean a lot to you, even if your house was built since World War II. Home builders admit that some 4 million two-bedroom houses, nicknamed "birth-control" houses, were built in the last seven years. They have proved too small for growing families. Furthermore, more than half of all the houses in the country are over 35 years old.

Lots of people run into a road block in do-it-yourself and modernization dreams. It might be a fine idea to fix up the old place, but the job just seems to be too much. A new house may be the only answer in these cases.

Of course, anyone living in an old house can sell it and buy a new one. But that is not always simple. You have to find a buyer by advertising or listing with brokers and then try to convince the buyer that he can fix the house up. He has to have the cash you want plus the cash or loan to modernize the house.

Lots of old houses have wonderful intrinsic value, but little sales appeal. The trade-in idea would persuade banks to recognize the true value and possibilities of an old house, make a commitment to a builder for a modernization loan and make as good a mortage break for the buyer as he would get on a new house of a similar price.

Big Down Payments

Under the present system, bigger down payments are required on old houses than on new houses. The Federal Housing Administration is trying to change this and FHA Administrator Guy Hollyday recently said Congress would be asked to "make it possible to treat old and new housing more nearly alike."

The only way to get lending institutions all over the country to back this program uniformly seems to be through the FHA system of insuring loans. So the FHA has already made rulings to encourage builders to take old houses in trade—to cover a man's down payment, or more, when he wants to buy a new house — modernize it and then resell it. There always are small families looking for small houses. And there always are big families who need more of a house than they can afford in new construction.

Trade-Ins Favored

The National Association of Home Builders is strong for the trade-in idea because it knows that the housing shortage has been filled. A demand for new models and better housing must be tapped if their industry is going to continue at full blast. And their industry, including all building tradesworkers and manufacturers of materials and equipment, is vital to our national economy.

The builders also know there is a demand for trade-ins because four out of every 10 prospects for a new house already own a house.

But many problems remain to be ironed out. House and Home, trade publication of the home building industry, has summarized some of these hurdles:

"Owners of old houses have an inflated idea of old-house values.

"Selling new houses is not tough enough to resort to trade-ins.

"Builders do not like the idea of getting into the realty business of having to make two sales to complete a deal."

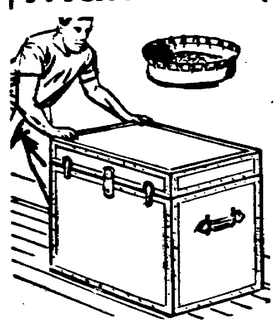
But at the same time, House and Home, canvassing builder opinion, quotes M. M. Robinson of Detroit as saying: "Any efficient operative builder should be able to make as much money building five new houses and modernizing five old ones as he can make building 10 new houses."

And Robert Kendler, president of Community Builders, described as Chicago's largest remodeling firm, chipped in with: "There is more money in modernization than in new houses."

If that is the case, there is a moral to this tale: Modernize your own home. BUT, House and Home tips off the builders:

"Consider only major improvements that will increase marketability and useful life of the house. Avoid overimproving it for its neighborhood."

Make Do



BOTTLE CAPS are handy when moving a heavy trunk or packing case. Slip them underneath, crimped side up. Then slide the load along the floor instead of lifting.

Popular Mechanics

Reward of $25,000 To Reuther Case Witness Disclosed

DETROIT (AP)—An official investigator says the CIO United Auto Workers Union contracted to pay Donald Ritchie $25,000 in reward in the Walter Reuther shooting.

Also, Ritchie's life was insured for another $10,000—payable if he were "feloniously killed within two years."

The account, latest chapter in the weird story of the five-year-old murder plot mystery, came out yesterday coincident with Ritchie's Canadian court hearing in his extradition fight.

Ralph Garber, chief assistant Wayne (Detroit) County prosecutor was auhority for it. He said the information came from a union source.

The union made no comment.

Ritchie already has been paid $5,000 for his story—later repudiated by himself—which brought murder conspiracy charges against four men.

Ritchie, the prosecution's "ace witness," named an uncle, Clarence Jacobs, 48, of Tecumseh, Ont., along with Carl Renda, 35; Santo (Sam) Perrone, 56, and Peter Lombardo, 51, all Detroiters, as conspirators.

He said they were responsible for the attempt to kill Reuther April 20, 1948, but now he has recanted on the whole story, declaring it was all a hoax.

PARENT SUES SCHOOL

CINCINNATI (AP) — Mrs. Corrine Burkes has sued the board of education and a teacher for $5,000 because, she said, her 7-year-old daughter was injured while jumping rope at school. Mrs. Burkes asserted in the Common Pleas Court suit filed yesterday the teacher made Anna Lee Burkes jump "too high." The girl suffered a right ankle fracture and a spine injury.

BLAST ALARMS PEOPLE

CLEVELAND (AP) — Alarmed by the sound of an explosion, hundreds of west siders called police and fire stations last night. The noise was caused by gas pocket "popping" in a Republic Steel Corp. blast furnace, a company spokesman said.

Piggy Bank Easily Built

By The Associated Press

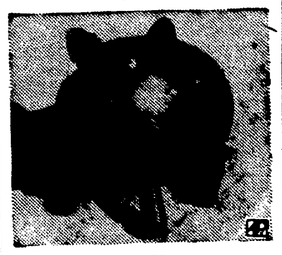
Learning thrift is fun for the youngsters when their handyman pop makes them an eye-catching piggy bank.

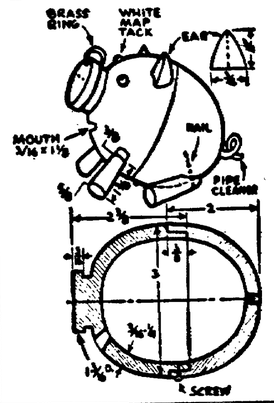
Here is a bank which can be turned out on a home workshop lathe in a single evening. It is designed by the Delta power tool division of the Rockwell Manufacturing Co.

As shown in the diagram, the piggy bank is basically egg-shaped, with an over-all length of four inches and a diameter of three inches. A good block of maple can be easily worked.

The two front legs are ⅝-inch by 1-⅜ and fit in holes drilled in the body. The back legs are cut to conform to the curve of the body and are nailed and glued in place, as shown.

Finishing of the project offers several opportunities for humorous touches. The eyes, for example, will bulge prominently if white map tacks are used, and a brass ring can easily be inserted in the nose. Incidentally, an ordinary pipe cleaner makes a good twisted tail for the pig.





Crawford County's Cattle Unit Names Bucyrian as Head

BUCYRUS — Organization of a Crawford County Cattle Raisers group was completed at a meeting here this week with James E Huggins, Bucyrus automobile dealer, being elected temporary chairman.

Four others were named to a steering committee to assist Mr. Huggins in preparing a program for the group. They are Glen Brause and Robert Hoffsis, both of Sulphur Springs, Warren Shawk of Holmes-Liberty and Dale Harer of Lykens. Brause and Shawk will represent the organization at the annual meeting of the Ohio Cattle Feeders Association in Columbus, Jan. 28-29.

The cattlemen agreed that governmental price supports were not the answer to the slump in beef cattle prices. They indicated they preferred to work out their own solution to the declining price problem.

County Agriculture Agent Russell L. Miller told the group that the feeding of cattle furnished 17 per cent of the county's agriculture income in 1953 being exceeded only by hog raising and dairy farming.

The group made plans for a tour of four prominent cattle farms in the county on Monday, Feb. 15. Farms to be visited have not yet been selected.

Dairymen Urged To Reduce Herds, Cut Milk Surplus

CLEVELAND (AP)—Dairy farmers should reduce milk surpluses by slaughtering low yield cows, says the president of an Ohio dairymen's federation.

E. A. Spafford, Ashtabula County dairyman and president of the Milk Producers Federation of Cleveland, told his organization's annual meeting yesterday that producing more milk to offset falling prices was ruinous.

"As prices dropped, there has been less culling (of poor cows)," he said. "We have tended to lose more money as we kept the low producers and, by further increasing surpluses, tended to lower still further the price of milk."

Spafford objected to a "self-help" program proposed by the National Milk Producers Federation of which he is a director.

He said he saw no reason why dairymen should finance such a program "while the government supports other farm products and subsidizes industry, banking and commerce."

Eisenhower Touched by Letter Asking for Fence Around Canal

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Please build this fence, Mr. President," a bereaved father wrote the White House, but sympathetic officials reported today that barbed wire alone won't keep children from drowning in the Contra Costa Canal of California.

The letter Warren Anderson of Martinez, Calif., wrote President Eisenhower after 3-year-old Joe Anderson lost his life Nov. 16 in the canal brought from the President the reply that rarely had been "been so touched by any letter as by yours." The President ordered an investigation.

Reclamation Commissioner W. A. Dexheimer's report to Secretary of the Interior McKay, who has jurisdiction over the canal, was made public today. The gist: "The problem is more properly one that requires the cooperation of each and every grownup in the area through which the canal winds."

Anderson wrote the President that 33 persons had lost their lives in the canal. He asked protection "not for my Joe, but for some other little Joe—or David—who's all boy and will be No. 34."

Dexheimer reported that the canal had been fenced at the point where Joe fell in, but that the wire "had been cut and trampled down."

"Adults as well as children made a habit of crawling through and over the fences to reach the canal to swim or fish," the report said.

Tight fencing might be a deterrent, it continued, but it "would also be a challenge to the youngsters" and might hamper rescue efforts in case of further mishaps.

And to fence the whole canal, which is traversed by 175 bridges and numerous culverts and siphon crossings, would be difficult and expensive, Dexheimer concluded. But he said there probably would be no objection to fencing "if the members of the (Contra Costa County water) district so desire and are willing to pay for it, even though the preceding statements indicate our belief that fencing is not the answer."

Dexheimer said investigation showed that eight of the persons listed among the 33 drowning victims actually lost their lives in other canals or ditches, not constructed by the bureau, that 11 of the others were soldiers stationed at Camp Stoneman, many of whom "were AWOL and under the influence of liquor."

This Is Crazy
We've picked this house apart from "A" to Izzard. We've noted all its fine points and all its imperfections. We have the facts to show you. This home cannot be duplicated for less than $14,000. It has a basement 40x36. That means you have approximately 1500 sq. ft. of hardwood floor area above. On a national scale today's building costs for frame construction are over $10 per sq. ft. Figure it for yourself and you'll say with us "This is crazy." Here is a ranch 62' in length on a $2,000 lot 77x144' with a living room 40' long, woodburning fireplace. Three good size bedrooms, modern bath, a kitchen with work area segregated from dining area, a 10' enclosed breezeway and attached to that a one-stall garage. Let's go into the basement—40x36' with large windows to the South letting in plenty of sunlight, ideal recreation area and rumpus room for the children, automatic gas furnace, shower, stool and lavatory. The few things that are to be desider are minor decorative changes to suit the taste of the individual. Where else can you get a $14,000 Ranch in a 100% location for $10,000?

Nothing To Improve
100% location. House exceptional—so is price. Three bedrooms and new bath up. Cross-front living room, large dining and nice kitchen. Basement. New gas furnace. New copper plumbing. Absolutely spotless inside and out. Do yourself a favor and see this one. $11,000.

South
Five room bungalow. Interior designed in latest modern trends. Wall to wall carpeting in large living and dining rooms. Modern kitchen with built in features and breakfast bar. Full basement. Automatic gas heat. Garage. Fenced lot. $7500.

South

Excellent Location
Beautiful bungalow with 28' cross-front living room. Large modern kitchen. Finished second floor. Full basement. Genuine gas furnace. Very well landscaped. $12,500.

Oakland Heights

ANNIE ROONEY —:— By Darrell McClure

I DUNNO WHAT HAPPENED TO ZERO YESTERDAY—ALL OF A SUDDEN HE RAN GROWLIN' AN' BARKIN' AT A POOR OLD LADY THAT WAS WALKIN' ALONG ON THE HIGHWAY—
I THINK WE SAW THE OLD LADY GETTING INTO A CAR THAT WAS PARKED DOWN THE ROAD—WAS SHE CARRYING A HEAVY CANE ?
YES, MRS. JULIUS—SHE TRIED TO HIT ZERO—SHE WAS AWFUL MAD—
I WONDER WHAT SHE WAS DOING, WALKING ALONG ALL ALONE!
IT'S QUEER THAT SUCH A SENSIBLE DOG WOULD ANNOY AN OLD LADY—
GEE—I NEVER THOUGHT OF THAT—ZERO LIKES EVERYBODY UNLESS THEY ARE BAD—AN' I KNOW POOR OLD LADIES ARE ALWAYS NICE.
